On East Liverpool-Wellsville Road

Rock, Dirt Slide Cleared

State Highway Department crews this morning began clearing away a rock and dirt slide that blocked one section of the Wellsville - East Liverpool super - road about three tenths a mile west of the city limits Friday night.

Both southbound lanes were blocked by the tons of dirt which came down off the steep hillside about 9.

Start of the work was delayed until this morning because of the danger of another large section breaking loose, highway aides said.

A large bucket crane and dump trucks were put into use to haul away the dirt. The slide contained a tree and one very large rock, which will have to be broken up to be hauled away.

Traffic was detoured into the east - bound lane. The State Highway Patrol, Columbiana County sheriff's department and Wellsville police assisted in diverting traffic into the proper lanes.

This was the first major slide of the year along the highway.

The State Highway Patrol reported a minor accident occurred on the detour section at 5:50 a. m., about seven-tenths a mile west of the city.

It involved cars driven by Paul E. Thomas, 43, of 338 Norton St., and Thelma D. Samples, 516 Washington St.

The woman was headed east when she started to pass a truck and sideswiped the Thomas car headed in the opposite direction. She was cited for passing without the assured clear distance.

Action's Due On $42.50 Flat Boost

Phone Poll Shows At Least Five Of Councilmen Favor

A flat pay increase of $42.50 monthly for 104 city employes has been accepted tentatively by at least five members of City Council, employe representatives who advanced the proposal were informed at a meeting Friday night at City Hall.

Councilmen Norman Bucher and James Cunningham represented Council at the meeting and said they later received telephone approval of the raise from three other Democratic councilmen.

Councilman Robert W. Sample Jr., the lone Republican voting member and chairman of Council's finance committee, said today he was not aware of the proposal.

The $42.50 figure was apparently a last - minute development after Council had deferred action Thursday night on a general wage increase to allow workers to decide whether they wanted the amount computed on a 7 per cent basis or a flat monthly sum.

The flat sum represents more than a 7 per cent increase for the majority of the workers, but employe representatives said it would cost the city less than the percentage increase Council had proposed.

Employe representatives said they were assured by Bucher and Cunningham that other fringe benefits requested would be discussed after legislation on the pay increase is prepared.

The pay increase is scheduled to go into effect not later than the first pay period in June with employes actually receiving the boost on the June 20 pay day.

For the seven months remaining of this year, the wage hike, if given final approval, would

Surprise 5-Man Body Installed

Dominican Group Urges Rebel Chief To Aid Peace

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — A five-man military-civilian ruling body installed in a surprise move by the Dominican's military junta has called on Col. Francisco Caamano's leftist rebels to help restore peace and national unity.

Gen. Antonio Imbert Barrerra Friday night was named president of the new group, which called itself a "government of national reconstruction." Imbert described Caamano as "a good personal friend" with whom he was ready to talk at any time.

Caamano, on the other hand, claims that his forces speak for the Dominican Republic as its legitimate government. He has said that his rebels will accept no coalition government formula involving the military junta.

"We could not do this, not after defending the constitution at the cost of nearly a thousand lives," Caamano said.

Other members of the new junta are Julio Pospigo, 61 a lawyer, book publisher and mayor of Santo Domingo in the regime of exiled ex-President Juan Bosch; Carlos Grisolia Poloney, 51, a provincial governor under the deposed government of Donald Reid Cabral; Alejandro Zeller Coco, 41, an engineer; and Col. Pedro B. Benoit, air force officer and holdover from the three-man junta which resigned Friday.

Imbert, 44, did not explain why the military junta resigned, but said the new group was appointed and sworn in by Supreme Court President Julio Acuello.

Called "Tony," Imbert is one of two survivors of the band of plotters who ambushed and killed Generalissimo Rafael Leonidas Trujillo in 1961. His stature as a result of the Trujillo assassination is regarded as significant in the loyalist move to broaden the area for a possible agreement with the rebels.

Imbert, a longtime friend of Bosch, was instrumental in Bosch's overthrow. He ascribed to the complaint of Gen. Elias Wessin y Wessin and other military leaders that Bosch had been too soft on Communists.

Pospigo's present political alliances are unknown, but some Dominican loyalists attending the swearing-in ceremony in the heavily guarded National Congress building said they considered Pospigo a militant in

New Planning Surveys Due In Downtown

Volunteers working with the City Planning Commission will begin a new survey next week to gather data on the central business area that is required for the East Liverpool "master plan" being prepared by the firm of Carroll V. Hill & Associates of Pittsburgh and Columbus.

Albin T. Babb is chairman of the central business area committee of the Planning Commission, which will launch the study in an area bounded by Jackson and Walnut Sts. on the east and west and 3rd St. and 8th St. on the north and south.

Daniel Ziegler, an employe of the planning concern, said the new effort is necessary because the original survey fell far short or providing the data necessary for a comprehensive report and recommendations.

In the initial effort late last fall, 200 questionnaires were distributed, but only 46 were returned. He told the Planning Commission several weeks ago a supplementary survey would be required before the firm could make intelligent and comprehensive findings on the downtown area.

Babb said a small subcommittee from within the central business area committee will call nersonally on persons asked to furnish data. The forms will be explained, along with the need for full information on which to base a planning report, he said.

Babb said his subcommittee will be comprised of three or four persons, each assigned to deliver and explain a number of the survey forms.

New Trial Due Klansman In Murder Case

Jury Failed To Agree On Verdict In Rights Slaying

HAYNEVILLE, Ala. (AP) — Alabama's Atty. Gen. Richmond Flowers says a Ku Klux Klansman whose murder trial ended in a deadlocked jury will be tried again.

And, he said, "when people realize that this is not going to be swept under the rug as just another civil rights incident, that this is a murder trial, we may get a conviction next time."

Collie Leroy Wilkins Jr., 21, of Fairfield, Ala., was free under bonds totaling $60,000 after a jury trying him in State Court for the killing of a white woman civil rights demonstrator failed Friday to agree on a verdict.

Ten of the 12 male jurors had voted for conviction. The other two held out for acquittal. Circuit Judge T. Werth Thagard declared a mistrial 24 hours and 20 minutes after he had put the life of Wilkins in the jury's hands.

The first - degree murder charge could have brought the death penalty.

Flowers, the state's chief legal officer, said he expects the crewcut Klansman to be called to trial again in the fall term of court in September.

Two other Klan members also

Rain 230 Tons Of Bombs

160 U.S. Planes Raid North Viet

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — More than 160 U.S. Air Force and Navy planes staged five raids against military targets and road communications in North Viet Nam today, raining more than 230 tons of bombs against a variety of targets.

The largest raid was carried out by 40 United States Navy A4 Skyhawks from the carriers Coral Sea and Midway. The planes dropped about 100 tons of bombs on the Vinh military air field, 160 miles south of Hanoi.

This was the second strike against an airfield in the three-month air war against the Communist north. Earlier Vietnamese air force Skyraiders hit the air base at Dong Hoi air field near the frontier. A spokesman did not say whether any Communist aircraft were on the ground.

A U.S. Marine was killed when Viet Cong guerrillas fired on a group of leathernecks touring hamlets just outside Da Nang air base, handing out chewing gum, candy and school books.

In two separate incidents in central Viet Nam, Communist land mines killed a U.S. Army Special Forces man and seriously wounded two other American soldiers.

A Marine spokesman said an eight-man group headed by a lieutenant colonel went to the Le My village complex with five Vietnamese, including the regional and village chiefs and interpreters.

The Marines had no trouble in the first hamlet, but as they entered the second, they drew heavy fire from a house, where an estimated five Viet Cong riflemen were hiding.

Attacking the house, the Marines lobbed a grenade inside, apparently without injuring the Red guerrillas. One Marine enlisted man, a scout, ran to the rear of the house to head off any guerrillas leaving the back way. Marine spokesmen said he was fatally wounded by one rifle bullet in the chest.

About five Viet Cong ran from the house and the Marines opened fire. One of the Communists stumbled and fell, but got up and escaped with the others.

It was believed that a company of Marines was sent into the area afterwards in an effort to track down the Viet Cong.

Le My village is near Red Beach Two, where the American Marines made their original ing repeated patrols and have landing in force two months ago. It is known as a Viet Cong area.

4 Youths Flee From Jail At Cumberland

The Hancock County sheriff's office broadcast an alert early this morning on the escape of four 15-year-old youths from the jail at New Cumberland Friday night.

Three of the juveniles, from Weirton, had been charged with stealing a car in Weirton about two weeks ago. The fourth, of New Cumberland, had been picked up yesterday for carrying a concealed weapon.

The youths were believed to have been in bed, when a deputy made a routine check shortly after midnight he discovered they had managed to saw an exit in the cell bars and escape through the rear of the jail and into the adjoining courtroom.

They are suspected of stealing another car from the vicinity of Wiley Ridge, in the rural area between New Cumberland and Weirton, following their escape.

Davis' Defeat Confirmed In Official Tally

Result Of Primary Certified To State By Election Board

The official canvass of returns from the primary and special elections Tuesday, completed Friday afternoon by the County Election Board, has confirmed the unofficial count on election night, including the four - vote margin by which an incumbent East Liverpool councilman was unseated.

The canvass upheld the victory of Robert B. Laughlin of W. 6th St. over William E. Davis of Edwards Ave. for the Democratic nomination for Fourth Ward councilman.

The Election Board has certified the official canvass figures to Secretary of State Ted W. Brown. The job of making the final tabulation had been under way since Thursday morning at the board's office on W. 6th St.

Oak Glen Teacher Second In 'Miss WVEA' Contest

An English and speech teacher at Oak Glen High School has been named runnerup in the Miss West Virginia Education Association contest held in conjunction with the group's 100th anniversary convention which opened at Charleston Friday.

Mrs. Martha Jarrett, who teaches second grade at Ravenswood in Jackson County, won the title.

Eleven candidates competed from regions representing 55 West Virginia counties. They were chosen on the basis of personality, intelligence, professional attitude, appearance, membership in professional associations, ability to speak at public functions and degree of participation in community activities.

Mrs. Comm, a graduate of Chester High School and West Virginia University, was selected as a regional representative in April during competion with entries from Brooke, Ohio, Wetzel and Marshall counties at Wilson Lodge in Oglebay Park, Wheeling.

Each county was represented by a commemoration chairman as well as a candidate. Miss Betty Buben, a teacher at Chester Junior High School, was the Hancock County chairman.

Oil Drillings Continue At Hancock Site

A definite finding should result within two or three months, a spokesman for the Humble Oil and Refining Co. said today as experimental drillings continued at a site in Hancock County near Oak Glen High School.

The project, which began April 8, was initiated following surveys which indicated possible oil deposits in the area. The work is being performed by the Delta Drilling Co. of Texas, with a rig capable of reaching a depth of 13,000 feet.

The company also may undertake additional experimental drilling operations in the area, the spokesman said.

Oil Drillings Continue At Hancock Site

A definite finding should result within two or three months, a spokesman for the Humble Oil and Refining Co. said today as experimental drillings continued at a site in Hancock County near Oak Glen High School.

The project, which began April 8, was initiated following surveys which indicated possible oil deposits in the area. The work is being performed by the Delta Drilling Co. of Texas, with a rig capable of reaching a depth of 13,000 feet.

The company also may undertake additional experimental drilling operations in the area, the spokesman said.

SPRING AND YOUR SEPTIC TANK

Surprising though it may seem, Spring, with its sunshine and showers, is just about the most critical time of year for owners of septic tanks.

To correctly understand the aforementioned statement it is first necessary to analyze the workings of septic tanks, and the effect of seasonal changes.

Your septic tank is a chamber wherein exists a complex of micro - organisms, each type equipped to handle and dispose of different types of waste material. Working as a team these infinitesimal forms of life break down and liquefy the solids, leaving only a liquid which is free to run out for the final disposal in your drainfield or drywell. Regularly activated, these living "garbage disposals" will normally keep up with the flow of waste, and your system will function properly. However, surveys show that during the spring season, more systems "back-up" and overflow than any other time of year, creating expensive and highly unsanitary conditions.

WHY???

The answer to that question is simply "temperature". Bacterial life dislikes temperature changes, and since your septic tank has no heating system to keep things cozy that they can go about their work in comfort, they die off in millions and billions when winter arrives, leaving only a "skeleton crew" of weakened bacteria to handle the heavy loads. Consequently, as winter months pass slowly by, a build-up of undigested grease and solids occurs, clogging the tank and passing through to the disposal fields. Grease congeals and deposits in the pores of the soil, almost to the point of being beyond repair. Melting ice, snow, and spring showers add to the problem by increasing the amount of water entering the system.

HOW SEA-CAL ENZYMES HELP

The powerful digestive powers of the enzymes contained in SEA-CAL rapidly liquefy the hard-grease packs in the septic tanks and drainfields, changing such grease and other solids into available food for the bacteria. SEA-CAL also contains 80,000,000 anerobic bacteria per gram (28 grams in each ounce), and with each bacteria reproducing itself many times a day, the micro-organism population as rapidly build up to adequate numbers, with the ultimate return of full operating efficiency.

The campaign will continue through Thursday, with students prepared to answer any questions about the fund drive.

The faculty advisers are Loyd Babb, Key; Tom Steele, Varsity, and Miss Norma Carpenter, Boosters.

Driller Suffers Arm Injury; Hospital Treats 11 Others

A man injured on an air compressor and another hurt while using a lawnmower were admitted to City Hospital, where 10 other persons were treated Friday and early today.

Albert Eugene Strable of Nanty-Glo, Pa., was in "fairly good" condition today with a compound fracture of the left arm suffered when he caught it in the pulley of a compressor while working for the Delta Drilling Co. at an oil field in Hancock County. He was admitted Friday at 11 a.m.

Joseph Brooks, 28, of Georgetown R.D. 1 suffered amputation of the tips of the first and third toes when he caught his right foot in a power mower last night. He was in "fairly good" condition today.

Theodore Evans, 10, son of Anderson Evans, 1296 Sunnyside Ave., received abrasions of the chest and left elbow when he went over an embankment on a bicycle.

Jeffrey Shaw, 16-month-old son of James Shaw, 935 Plutus Ave., Chester, suffered a cut cheek when he pulled a chair onto himself.

Deborah Ann Mouse, 4, daughter of Mrs. Eileen Mouse, 1116 White St., Wellsville, suffered a puncture wound of the right foot when she stepped on a nail.

Mrs. Janet Gamble of 3rd Ave., LaCroft, cut her right foot on a piece of glass.

Gary Bonnell, 17, of Martha St. suffered lacerations of the nose, forehead and eyebrows when he fell against a wooden stool.

5th St. Mishap Laid To Changing Of Lane

Changing lanes on E. 5th St. was blamed for a mishap Friday afternoon, police reported.

The crash involved eastbound autos driven by Vincent D'Itri, 67, of 846 Maryland Ave., Midland, and Ralph Arrington, 64, of 1429 Commerce St., Wellsville.

D'Itri said he was traveling in the left lane near Washington St., but wanted to get into the right lane to make a right turn onto Market St. and failed to see Arrington, who already was in the right lane.

Asa Britton, 134 W. 4th St., reported to police that the left rear of his 1964 station wagon was damaged by a hit-skip motorist while parked on W. 4th St. between 12:30 and 7:30 this morning.

Little Chance Seen For Calling Reserves

ALAMEDA, Calif. (AP)—Despite the Viet Nam crisis, there appears to be little chance that reserves will be called up for active duty.

Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, chairman of the U.S. Joint Chiefs of Staff, said Friday, "We haven't gotten to that point yet. At least for the foreseeable future, we have ample forces at our disposal."

Wheeler, here for Armed Forces Week, held a news conference aboard the attack-carrier Ranger, just back from delivering air strikes at North Viet Nam.

1,000-Vote Mistake Occurs At Massillon

MASSILLON, Ohio (AP) — Jack Foster, who thought he was the biggest vote-getter in the councilman-at - large race after Tuesday's primary election, has turned out to be the low vote-getter among four candidates.

Election officials said discovery of a 1,000-vote error dropped Foster from first to fourth Friday. A recheck of tabulations showed a mathematical error had given him 2,016 votes when he should have had only 1,016.

The county election board said the tabulating error, resulting when the wrong figure was carried over from one page to another, was caught before official certification of results.

License Suspended

LISBON — Merle Tice, 25, of 407 3rd St., Wellsville, had his driver's license suspended for six months Friday by County Judge J. L. MacDonald as "a habitual traffic offender." He has 21 points within two years, including three convictions for driving while his driver's license was under revocation, and one for reckless operation.

Bloody Riot Erupts After Sheik's Held

SRINAGAR, Kashmir (AP) — Bloody rioting erupted here in Sheik Mohammed Abdullah's home town today when it was learned "the Lion of Kashmir" had been seized by Indian police in New Delhi.

Indian police killed at least four rioters in firing on huge crowds of demonstrators surging through the streets.

Police vehicles were burned, and an Indian government spokesman said "a number of policemen were injured" in the riots.

In New Delhi, an Indian government spokesman said an unidentified U.N. observer, in Kashmir to police the India-Pakistan cease-fire line, was manhandled during the rioting, but was not seriously injured.

At least 55 persons were arrested by reinforced police units that patrolled the city.

Abdullah's supporters declared a general strike and roaming mobs stoned any bus or shop that did not observe it.

Abdullah was sent into exile in south India, presumably because he conferred with Premier Chou En-lai of Red China in Algiers on a tour abroad advocating independence for Kashmir. The state now is divided between India and Pakistan.

2nd Week Slated For Annual City Refuse Cleanup

The annual citywide spring cleanup, now at the midway point, will move into its second week Monday morning with refuse collections in East End, Incinerator Supt. John Melvin reminded householders today.

Collections will be made in the East End area both Monday and Tuesday. Monday's schedule is:

Ohio Ave., St. George St., Railroad St., Kent St., State St., Mulberry St., 1st Ave., Virginia Ave., Mapletree St., Elmtree St., Pennsylvania Ave., Boyce St., Monaca St., Harker Ave. and Erie St.

These streets will be covered Tuesday: Globe St., Etruria St., Cleveland Ave., Palissey St., Wedgewood St., Holliday St., Park Ave., Alpha St., Oakland Ave., Price St., Valley Ave., Elizabeth St., Putnam St., Harvey Ave., Ohio Ave., Michigan Ave. and Little England.

Music, Comedy Hold Sway As Vaudeville Days Return

A male version of the "can can" added a rousing note to the second annual vaudeville show of Lady Elks Friday night at the lodge home. More than 175 attended.

Costumed appropriately were James Noble, James Salsberry, John Manypenny, Harry Clapsaddle and William Wolfe, who danced as "Maurice And the Mademoiselles." William Kennedy, impersonating "Maurice Chevalier," sang "Louise."

Fashions modeled in the humorous style show included the "wash - and - wear" dress made of towels, the pastel tissue dress, the "pencil" skirt and the duster, complete with an iron in the pocket. Millinery included a marshmallow affair, peanut hat and a ladybird duo. Mrs. Maude Logan appeared as the young bride.

Soloists were Jess Finley, Ed Massey, and Ernie Lowe, master of ceremonies, who belted out his version of "Minnie The Moocher."

A vocal quartet "The Beams" sang several selections. Group singing included numbers by "The Elketts Chorus" and "The Elks Chorus."

Billy Wolfe appeared as the patriotic little boy in the finale when the entire cast sang "God Bless America."

Mrs. Donald Mahon, general chairman, announced part of the proceeds will go to the United Cerebral Palsy fund.

Robert Gessford Named President Of Banking Unit

Robert Gessford, manager of the First National Bank's Calcutta branch, is the new president of the Steubenville chapter of the American Institute of Banking.

He was named Wednesday night during a meeting in the Fort Steuben Hotel and succeeds Robert Milby, also an employe of the First National Bank.

Others elected are: Robert Jaros of the Steubenville First National Bank and Trust Co., vice president; Mrs. Sarah Dickey of the Potters Bank and Trust Co. here, secretary-treasurer, for a second term, and Mrs. Robert Montgomery of the Miners and Mechanics Bank of Steubenville, chairman of the Women's Committee.

Milby announced a dinner-dance is being planned for May 22 for all AIB students and their wives or husbands. It will be at the Fort Steuben, with Scotty Young and his orchestra providing the music.

$700 Million For Confidence

House and Senate passage of a $700-million Viet war fund with only three dissenting votes in the Senate and seven in the House clinch the case for congressional support.

President Johnson has been given a thumping vote of congressional confidence. The legislators have closed ranks. He has transformed himself from a fluttering and uncertain peace dove, which was his role in the 1964 presidential campaign, to a high-flying war hawk.

He has solidified legislative support for a policy that has been looked at askance oftener than it has been viewed with approval ever since his first errand for the then new administration of John F. Kennedy was to size up the prospects of beefing up the skimpy military resources of South Viet Nam.

He has taken the zing out of criticism by Barry Goldwater's backers that the Johnson administration was "soft on Communism."

He has applied his famous doctrine of government by consensus to foreign policy. He has taken the opposition into his own camp.

He has figured out how to get Congress to give him what amounts to a declaration of war without asking for a declaration of war, which would be impossible under existing circumstances, because the "enemy" in South Viet Nam is the Viet Cong, an organization of guerrilla fighters.

A declaration of war in Viet Nam would be as futile as that declaration against Red China in Korea, where the "enemy" was comprised of "volunteers."

Insofar as it was humanly and politically possible to handle an awkward situation adroitly, President Johnson has handled the awkward situation of being at war in Viet Nam without a declaration of war.

He has handled everything expertly. Nothing more could be asked of him.

But because he is knowledgeable, he knows as well as anyone else that as many doubts and misgivings surround U.S. policy and the U.S. situation in Viet Nam as ever.

It is still doubtful that this country can do what it would have to do there to claim success. The U.S. public is still plagued with misgivings about a policy of containment of Communism that causes their military forces to be dispersed throughout the world — wherever Communists choose to start another "brush-fire war."

Big Fight Is Still Ahead

The Ohio AFL-CIO publication, "News and Views," hails the turndown last Tuesday of Issue 3 by Ohio voters as "a great victory for the people."

The publication excoriates newspapers that backed Issue 3 and blasts all its other backers. Referring to the campaign against the issue, "News and Views" refers to it as "a crusade for Ohio labor" and says the outcome was "a sweet victory for Organized Labor because we chose to make the fight."

Newspapers backing Issue 3, "News and Views" goes on to say "either really didn't understand the issue of reapportionment or they did know the facts but preferred not to play it straight with their readers."

This is not the first time the AFL-CIO has teed off on newspapers, and we are certain it won't be the last. The AFL-CIO is tied up with the Democratic party in Ohio. In some respects, it is the Democratic party in Ohio, which makes it supersensitive to comments about the party's operation.

Issue 3 was a sore point with Democrats because it threatened to break their one-party hold on Cuyahoga County, the one-county tail that wags Ohio's Democratic dog. Comments on this were not gentle.

Issue 3 would have given Cuyahoga County Republicans a chance to be represented in the Ohio House of Representatives, too. For that reason, it was anathema to Ohio Democrats and their associates of the AFL-CIO. It burned them up.

So, Issue 3 was licked, thanks to a hard-hitting and pretty unscrupulous campaign. Score One for Organized Labor, which "made the fight."

But now it is up to Organized Labor and Ohio Democrats to prove they can do what they stopped the backers of Issue 3 from doing — come up with a plan to reapportion the state's representation in the Ohio House of Representatives.

So far, all they have done is block a Republican proposal for reapportionment of the Ohio House of Representatives. They have yet to prove they can put over their own proposal, whatever it turns out to be. The big fight is still ahead.

It Comes From Our Hearts

Do mothers really appreciate what we try to do for them on Mother's Day?

Or do these good souls, remembering how we customarily foul up our good intentions, shudder when we step out of character?

Are they afraid we will overdo it or underdo it? Do they worry about our health if we offer to make the trip to the garbage can, or bring them their breakfast in bed?

Do we embarrass them with our awkward and too-little-practiced gestures of appreciation—the little gifts, the flowers, the candy? Did we forget their glove size, the fact flowers make them sneeze and candy makes them fat?

Did the Mother's Day cards embarrass them?

Probably. But remember, mothers — wherever you are — that our hearts were in all this. Everything we did came from our hearts, even though you might wish we had put more thought into it.

And if someone forgot, which sometimes happens, Happy Mother's Day in their behalf. It was only a lapse of memory, not of feeling.

The Third-Mouse Theme

The managing director of Chicago's Anti-Cruelty Society, J. J. Shaffer, is authority for the information that suburban sprawl is driving wild animals into town.

The refuge they are seeking isn't there, unfortunately. Townies have only one thought about a wild animal. Kill it. Corner it and beat it to death. Call the police and have it shot. Call the humane society and have it taken away immediately, because it's dangerous. It might bite or spread disease.

We keep thinking about the country mouse and the town mouse and their famous exchange of visits. Each was terrified by the routine circumstances of the other's environment. The story must be updated.

The suburban mouse must be added. His environment features power mowers, insecticides, cook-outs, tinkling glasses across back-lot boundaries, far-ranging dogs, prowling cats and numberless children with insatiable curiosity about everything that crawls, wriggles, squirms, walks or flies.

He is in danger of being engulfed and entangled in the affluent web of suburban living. We've a hunch both the town mouse and the country mouse would stand in awe of this newcomer, with his savoir faire, sports car and extra-dry mousinis.

No Mystery

By Truman Twill

A juvenile judge in Cleveland teed off on the parents of three teen-age boys appearing before him after a series of 11 burglaries amounting to many thousands of dollars.

These were not underprivileged boys from bad neighborhoods. They were overprivileged youths from some of Cleveland's best homes.

Their fathers were successful businessmen.

So what was wrong?

Same thing.

Nothing to do. One mother called it lack of recreational facilities, which was an unfortunate choice of phraseology. What really was lacking was lack of something better to do than break into the homes of wealthy families and steal thousands of dollars' worth of valuable merchandise.

Much of the stuff was disposed of casually; it had no special appeal. The loot the boys took home, it was revealed in court, attracted no attention from their parents; it was never noticed among the other clutter of the affluent society in which these people lived.

It doesn't matter where the story is told.

Their chances of trouble are no better than 50-50, if they are left to their own devices. The odds against trouble can be lengthened only if people wise enough to steer them away from it take the time.

School teachers can help. Adults outside the family can help. Older brothers and sisters can help.

But the job belongs first of all to their fathers and mothers—and may the courts have mercy on the poor kids whose fathers and mothers aren't smart enough to raise them.

This has become the curse of mid-century America—a generation of parents not smart enough to raise their own kids.

It isn't that youngsters suddenly have passed under a cloud. A parental generation, faced with special challenges, cracked up and went limp on the job.

Who knows?

This much is certain. If the parental generation doesn't come up quick with something better than it has come up with so far, juvenile delinquency will get no better.

It will continue to follow a course that is giving America a new aphorism.

Instead of going from shirtsleeves to shirtsleeves in one generation, which has been said of wealth, Americans will go from work shirts to prison denim in one generation, which amounts to the same thing, only worse.

And Don't Forget The Flowers!

One Way To Beat The Communists

By Victor Riesel

There's a second "pentagon" here directing a special kind of war against the skilled Latin American cadres now terrorizing the people there.

Victor Riesel

Few recognize this "pentagon" for it's in a businesslike building at 1925 K St. Furthermore its weapons are bread and sewing materials, good housing and especially the supply of newly-trained men who can go forth as sophisticated strategists to struggle with core Communists for the devotion of the working masses.

This "pentagon" is the American Institute for Free Labor Development (AIFLD). But it is not only an AFL-CIO project, it has the support of executives of 60 companies such as Pan American Airways, the Grace Co., General Motors, U. S. Steel and the Rockefeller enterprises.

Graduates of its training centers now total 20,000 Latin labor leaders. Of these 6,000 are young men who are the special targets of the Communist apparatus.

THEY'VE DRIVEN Communists from port unions which were harassing shipping in an effort to shake up Latin land. They have helped drive Communists from control of strategic little British Guiana.

They have saved politically powerful unions in banana towns deep in Honduras from Communist cadres trained in Havana, Moscow and Peking. They have driven Communists from the strong, "jugular unions" in Brazil.

AIFLD, headed by George Meany and J. Peter Grace, was in the midst of assisting democratic Dominican labor leaders when the civil war flared. This aid came in many fashions.

There is a small schoolhouse in Boca Chica on the Dominican coast. It's the only one there. But its roof was partially blown off. Its walls have been crumbling. During each rainfall, the electricity flickers and vanishes. Barefoot youngsters have been fighting uphill for literacy.

SO THE AIFLD moved in with a few thousand dollars from the "Impact Projects" fund. It began repairing the school, neutralizing "anti - Gringo" Communist propaganda and winning the hearts of the people. They did not turn "anti - North American" when U.S. troops moved into Santo Domingo.

And over in San Pedro de Macoris, AIFLD has made possible the obtaining by Dominican workers of a $1.7 million loan for a 120-acre tract and the construction of 960 homes. This housing project will be built for workers at a sugar mill.

Men who own their own homes have a stake in freedom. They are not apt to go into the streets firing wildly at a society which has enabled them to house their families decently for the first time.

These stories do not often make headlines, but they do make allies for democracy by wiping out the frustration and bitterness which become the basic Communist propaganda weapons.

And it takes so little!

TYPICAL is the loan made by the "Impact" fund to 20 women in Lima, Peru. They needed sewing materials. A few dollars made that possible. Now they have a project.

They sew shirts for their men folk and others in the unions. They earn a few dollars and their men folk now walk in dignity instead of tatters.

In northeast Brazil the fund made it possible to haul 600 tons of food from Recife to Carpina, where there was little food but much Communist propaganda.

In Chile, AIFLD moved swiftly after the earthquake. They rushed emergency drugs, food and prefabricated material for workers' homes destroyed in the upheaval.

But the "war" must be fought on other levels. Communist labor leaders come out of disciplined training schools. For years they had the Latin field as a picnic ground. But almost three years ago, AIFLD was set up as joint labor - management project.

IT STARTED from a scratch pad. Now it has resident center schools in 13 Latin nations —including the Caribbean. In 19 nations there are local seminars and short lecture courses.

I can vouch for the eagerness of the young Latin labor leaders to learn. I especially remember Montevideo. There, skilled Communists were powerful on the board of an independent union of stevedores.

But recently a new board of trustees took over in January. This union is vital to the economy of Uruguay. Under the new regime leadership is in the hands of democratic, anti-Communist unionists headed by Jose Muniz. He and three other board members are graduates of the AIFLD institute.

It all proves that the Communists can be beaten before they start shooting. All it takes is effort, imagination and dedication.

Disservice To CIA

By David Lawrence

Agency's Secret Operations Defended

The National Broadcasting Co. put on a television program Tuesday night which, in the opinion of many members of Congress and other viewers, did a distinct disservice to the Central Intelligence Agency — the principal instrumentality of the United States in fighting the cold war throughout the world.

David Lawrence

Based on fragmentary information and isolated episodes, the program gave the impression that the United States is authorizing a clandestine operation which is both improper and unethical. There were some former officials of the CIA on the program, too, but their brief remarks defending the agency's methods were virtually nullified by other commentaries to which prominence was given.

If it weren't for the CIA, the United States would not have known about the missile bases in Cuba. Likewise, but for the alertness of the CIA, President Johnson would not have been advised soon enough to take the prompt action he did in the Dominican Republic.

Naturally, some of its methods are severe. So are the bullets and bombs of an enemy army in a hot war.

TOO MANY people are unaware that the investigative work being done by the United States today through the CIA is one of the most important bulwarks against the Communists, who, by infiltration, are seeking to take over small countries everywhere.

One test of the effectiveness of the CIA is whether the Communists will be able to gain control of Latin-American countries from Mexico southward, and whether the United States will be confronted with bases which could be operated by hostile forces capable of using missiles and nuclear weapons.

The cold war is not a moral or ethical affair. Neither side is polite in waging its war, but the duty of the press, including television and radio, is to cooperate with their own government in withholding information concerning the activities of any governmental agency which is engaged in secret operations to protect the American people against sudden attack.

During both world wars, the press voluntarily submitted to its own censorship and withheld information that could be of possible aid or comfort to the enemy.

The cold war is in the same category. There are certain military facts and intelligence operations that ought to be kept secret.

THE TELEVISION program gave many viewers the impression that the CIA operates entirely on its own, that there is no restraint or check upon its operations, and that it is therefore virtually irresponsible. Allen Dulles, former director of the CIA, said in an all-too-brief rebuttal on that program, there are four committees of Congress—two in the House and two in the Senate—to which the CIA reports regularly and answers any questions that the legislators ask.

The President also is kept fully imformed and has his own intelligence advisory board. No move of any importance is taken without the knowledge of both the President and Congressional committees.

Nothing is, however, published. The committee hearings are secret. Both Republicans and Democrats have maintained silence about these sessions, because they have thought it was the patriotic thing to do.

The CIA itself does not engage in public discussion, even to defend itself. This is why a television program which gives an erroneous impression to the American people and implies that the CIA is an irresponsible and unmoral agency is an unfortunate occurrence.

The CIA is necessarily a secret operation. Its personnel abroad is not large, but its influence is great. It has a substantial sum of money at its disposal to use in the best interests of this country in fighting the cold war.

THE PRESS would certainly not wish to divulge the nature of military plans during a hot war, and there is equal reason for withholding the details of the operations of the CIA in the cold war.

So long as Congress has access to full information about the CIA, and is able to keep in close touch with what is going on, the interests of the American people will be protected against improper use of money or personnel. Under both Republican and Democratic administrations, the CIA has succeeded in making effective use of its resources in the cold war.

The American government, both directly and indirectly, does all in its power, by propaganda and otherwise, to discourage people in other countries from falling victim to Communist infiltration. It will continue to carry on this fight because it's one of the most important phases of the cold war.

To insist, however, that the CIA should make its operations public is comparable to a demand that this country make available to the enemy the secrets of its atomic arsenal and strategic plans.

Winning a cold war can avert a hot war, and that is why the part which the CIA plays in helping to spare the United States the holocaust of a hot war is of the utmost importance in American life today.

Down Through The Years

From The Review Files

THIRTY YEARS AGO — Ray Neidengard of Calcutta was named president of the Young People's Christian Union of the Steubenville Presbytery.

Atty. Gen. John W. Bricker of Columbus delivered the dedicatory address at the formal opening of the municipal building at W. 6th St.

A request for the construction of an athletic field, with the aid of FERA funds, was placed before the Midland Borough council by a committee from the Young Men's Republican Club.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — A petition signed by more than 25 Chester men was forwarded to Kiwanis International in Chicago to obtain a club charter for the community.

Miss Maebell Manning of Chester Ave., Wellsville, was graduated from the School of Nursing at the North Side unit of Youngstown City Hospital.

TEN YEARS AGO—Mary Louise Haynes was named valedictorian and Miss Marie Wudarsky salutatorian of the 1955 Senior Class of New Cumberland High School.

Glenn McCall was honored as outstanding band member of 1955 during the annual concert of the East Liverpool High School band and orchestra.

Letter To The Editor

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

In the Council meeting Monday night, Councilman Robert Sample said the 5 per cent raise would extend to the police, fire, street, water and sewage departments and virtually every person on the city payroll except clerical workers in City Hall offices.

Why not those workers? He says "no" because most of them are women with husbands working. What about men in the police department holding down jobs at the Crucible Steel Co.? If they are entitled to a raise while holding down two jobs, then certainly the clerical workers deserve one, too.

I think if a raise is granted everyone should be included. I was surprised that none of the fellow workers spoke up for them at the meeting. Also, Patrolman Paul Lemal said he would like to see any man at Crucible who would work for $13.20 a day. Well, I know men with good jobs at Crucible who quit and got jobs with the police and fire departments of the City of East Liverpool. So I say again if a raise is granted, be union and give it to all. I am not a clerical worker's husband.

$700 Million For Confidence

House and Senate passage of a $700-million Viet war fund with only three dissenting votes in the Senate and seven in the House clinch the case for congressional support.

President Johnson has been given a thumping vote of congressional confidence. The legislators have closed ranks. He has transformed himself from a fluttering and uncertain peace dove, which was his role in the 1964 presidential campaign, to a high-flying war hawk.

He has solidified legislative support for a policy that has been looked at askance oftener than it has been viewed with approval ever since his first errand for the then new administration of John F. Kennedy was to size up the prospects of beefing up the skimpy military resources of South Viet Nam.

He has taken the zing out of criticism by Barry Goldwater's backers that the Johnson administration was "soft on Communism."

He has applied his famous doctrine of government by consensus to foreign policy. He has taken the opposition into his own camp.

He has figured out how to get Congress to give him what amounts to a declaration of war without asking for a declaration of war, which would be impossible under existing circumstances, because the "enemy" in South Viet Nam is the Viet Cong, an organization of guerrilla fighters.

A declaration of war in Viet Nam would be as futile as that declaration against Red China in Korea, where the "enemy" was comprised of "volunteers."

Insofar as it was humanly and politically possible to handle an awkward situation adroitly, President Johnson has handled the awkward situation of being at war in Viet Nam without a declaration of war.

He has handled everything expertly. Nothing more could be asked of him.

But because he is knowledgeable, he knows as well as anyone else that as many doubts and misgivings surround U.S. policy and the U.S. situation in Viet Nam as ever.

It is still doubtful that this country can do what it would have to do there to claim success. The U.S. public is still plagued with misgivings about a policy of containment of Communism that causes their military forces to be dispersed throughout the world — wherever Communists choose to start another "brushfire war."

Big Fight Is Still Ahead

The Ohio AFL-CIO publication, "News and Views," hails the turndown last Tuesday of Issue 3 by Ohio voters as "a great victory for the people."

The publication excoriates newspapers that backed Issue 3 and blasts all its other backers. Referring to the campaign against the issue, "News and Views" refers to it as "a crusade for Ohio labor" and says the outcome was "a sweet victory for Organized Labor because we chose to make the fight."

Newspapers backing Issue 3, "News and Views" goes on to say "either really didn't understand the issue of reapportionment or they did know the facts but preferred not to play it straight with their readers."

This is not the first time the AFL-CIO has teed off on newspapers, and we are certain it won't be the last. The AFL-CIO is tied up with the Democratic party in Ohio. In some respects, it is the Democratic party in Ohio, which makes it supersensitive to comments about the party's operation.

Issue 3 was a sore point with Democrats because it threatened to break their one-party hold on Cuyahoga County, the one-county tail that wags Ohio's Democratic dog. Comments on this were not gentle.

Issue 3 would have given Cuyahoga County Republicans a chance to be represented in the Ohio House of Representatives, too. For that reason, it was anathema to Ohio Democrats and their associates of the AFL-CIO. It burned them up.

So, Issue 3 was licked, thanks to a hard-hitting and pretty unscrupulous campaign. Score One for Organized Labor, which "made the fight."

But now it is up to Organized Labor and Ohio Democrats to prove they can do what they stopped the backers of Issue 3 from doing — come up with a plan to reapportion the state's representation in the Ohio House of Representatives.

So far, all they have done is block a Republican proposal for reapportionment of the Ohio House of Representatives. They have yet to prove they can put over their own proposal, whatever it turns out to be. The big fight is still ahead.

It Comes From Our Hearts

Do mothers really appreciate what we try to do for them on Mother's Day?

Or do these good souls, remembering how we customarily foul up our good intentions, shudder when we step out of character?

Are they afraid we will overdo it or underdo it? Do they worry about our health if we offer to make the trip to the garbage can, or bring them their breakfast in bed?

Do we embarrass them with our awkward and too-little-practiced gestures of appreciation—the little gifts, the flowers, the candy? Did we forget their glove size, the fact flowers make them sneeze and candy makes them fat?

Did the Mother's Day cards embarrass them?

Probably. But remember, mothers — wherever you are — that our hearts were in all this. Everything we did came from our hearts, even though you might wish we had put more thought into it.

And if someone forgot, which sometimes happens, Happy Mother's Day in their behalf. It was only a lapse of memory, not of feeling.

The Third-Mouse Theme

The managing director of Chicago's Anti-Cruelty Society, J. J. Shaffer, is authority for the information that suburban sprawl is driving wild animals into town.

The refuge they are seeking isn't there, unfortunately. Townies have only one thought about a wild animal. Kill it. Corner it and beat it to death. Call the police and have it shot. Call the humane society and have it taken away immediately, because it's dangerous. It might bite or spread disease.

We keep thinking about the country mouse and the town mouse and their famous exchange of visits. Each was terrified by the routine circumstances of the other's environment. The story must be updated.

The suburban mouse must be added. His environment features power mowers, insecticides, cook-outs, tinkling glasses across back-lot boundaries, far-ranging dogs, prowling cats and numberless children with insatiable curiosity about everything that crawls, wriggles, squirms, walks or flies.

He is in danger of being engulfed and entangled in the affluent web of suburban living. We've a hunch both the town mouse and the country mouse would stand in awe of this newcomer, with his savoir faire, sports car and extra-dry mousinis.

No Mystery

By Truman Twill

A juvenile judge in Cleveland teed off on the parents of three teen-age boys appearing before him after a series of 11 burglaries amounting to many thousands of dollars.

These were not underprivileged boys from bad neighborhoods. They were overprivileged youths from some of Cleveland's best homes.

Their fathers were successful businessmen.

So what was wrong?

Same thing.

Nothing to do. One mother called it lack of recreational facilities, which was an unfortunate choice of phraseology. What really was lacking was lack of something better to do than break into the homes of wealthy families and steal thousands of dollars' worth of valuable merchandise.

Much of the stuff was disposed of casually; it had no special appeal. The loot the boys took home, it was revealed in court, attracted no attention from their parents; it was never noticed among the other clutter of the affluent society in which these people lived.

It doesn't matter where the story is told.

Their chances of trouble are no better than 50-50, if they are left to their own devices. The odds against trouble can be lengthened only if people wise enough to steer them away from it take the time.

School teachers can help. Adults outside the family can help. Older brothers and sisters can help.

But the job belongs first of all to their fathers and mothers—and may the courts have mercy on the poor kids whose fathers and mothers aren't smart enough to raise them.

This has become the curse of mid-century America—a generation of parents not smart enough to raise their own kids.

It isn't that youngsters suddenly have passed under a cloud. A parental generation, faced with special challenges, cracked up and went limp on the job.

Who knows?

This much is certain. If the parental generation doesn't come up quick with something better than it has come up with so far, juvenile delinquency will get no better.

It will continue to follow a course that is giving America a new aphorism.

Instead of going from shirtsleeves to shirtsleeves in one generation, which has been said of wealth, Americans will go from work shirts to prison denim in one generation, which amounts to the same thing, only worse.

And Don't Forget The Flowers!

One Way To Beat The Communists

By Victor Riesel

There's a second "pentagon" here directing a special kind of war against the skilled Latin American cadres now terrorizing the people there.

Victor Riesel

Few recognize this "pentagon" for it's in a businesslike building at 1925 K St. Furthermore its weapons are bread and sewing materials, good housing and especially the supply of newly-trained men who can go forth as sophisticated strategists to struggle with core Communists for the devotion of the working masses.

This "pentagon" is the American Institute for Free Labor Development (AIFLD). But it is not only an AFL-CIO project, it has the support of executives of 60 companies such as Pan American Airways, the Grace Co., General Motors, U. S. Steel and the Rockefeller enterprises.

Graduates of its training centers now total 20,000 Latin labor leaders. Of these 6,000 are young men who are the special targets of the Communist apparatus.

THEY'VE DRIVEN Communists from port unions which were harassing shipping in an effort to shake up Latin land. They have helped drive Communists from control of strategic little British Guiana.

They have saved politically powerful unions in banana towns deep in Honduras from Communist cadres trained in Havana, Moscow and Peking. They have driven Communists from the strong, "jugular unions" in Brazil.

AIFLD, headed by George Meany and J. Peter Grace, was in the midst of assisting democratic Dominican labor leaders when the civil war flared. This aid came in many fashions.

There is a small schoolhouse in Boca Chica on the Dominican coast. It's the only one there. But its roof was partially blown off. Its walls have been crumbling. During each rainfall, the electricity flickers and vanishes. Barefoot youngsters have been fighting uphill for literacy.

SO THE AIFLD moved in with a few thousand dollars from the "Impact Projects" fund. It began repairing the school, neutralizing "anti - Gringo" Communist propaganda and winning the hearts of the people. They did not turn "anti - North American" when U.S. troops moved into Santo Domingo.

And over in San Pedro de Macoris, AIFLD has made possible the obtaining by Dominican workers of a $1.7 million loan for a 120-acre tract and the construction of 960 homes. This housing project will be built for workers at a sugar mill.

Men who own their own homes have a stake in freedom. They are not apt to go into the streets firing wildly at a society which has enabled them to house their families decently for the first time.

These stories do not often make headlines, but they do make allies for democracy by wiping out the frustration and bitterness which become the basic Communist propaganda weapons.

And it takes so little!

TYPICAL is the loan made by the "Impact" fund to 20 women in Lima, Peru. They needed sewing materials. A few dollars made that possible. Now they have a project.

They sew shirts for their men folk and others in the unions. They earn a few dollars and their men folk now walk in dignity instead of tatters.

In northeast Brazil the fund made it possible to haul 600 tons of food from Recife to Carpina, where there was little food but much Communist propaganda.

In Chile, AIFLD moved swiftly after the earthquake. They rushed emergency drugs, food and prefabricated material for workers' homes destroyed in the upheaval.

But the "war" must be fought on other levels. Communist labor leaders come out of disciplined training schools. For years they had the Latin field as a picnic ground. But almost three years ago, AIFLD was set up as joint labor - management project.

IT STARTED from a scratch pad. Now it has resident center schools in 13 Latin nations —including the Caribbean. In 19 nations there are local seminars and short lecture courses.

I can vouch for the eagerness of the young Latin labor leaders to learn. I especially remember Montevideo. There, skilled Communists were powerful on the board of an independent union of stevedores.

But recently a new board of trustees took over in January. This union is vital to the economy of Uruguay. Under the new regime leadership is in the hands of democratic, anti-Communist unionists headed by Jose Muniz. He and three other board members are graduates of the AIFLD institute.

In Uruguay Communists no longer are a waterfront problem. Thus it goes below the border.

It all proves that the Communists can be beaten before they start shooting. All it takes is effort, imagination and dedication.

Disservice To CIA

By David Lawrence

Agency's Secret Operations Defended

The National Broadcasting Co. put on a television program Tuesday night which, in the opinion of many members of Congress and other viewers, did a distinct disservice to the Central Intelligence Agency — the principal instrumentality of the United States in fighting the cold war throughout the world.

David Lawrence

Based on fragmentary information and isolated episodes, the program gave the impression that the United States is authorizing a clandestine operation which is both improper and unethical. There were some former officials of the CIA on the program, too, but their brief remarks defending the agency's methods were virtually nullified by other commentaries to which prominence was given.

If it weren't for the CIA, the United States would not have known about the missile bases in Cuba. Likewise, but for the alertness of the CIA, President Johnson would not have been advised soon enough to take the prompt action he did in the Dominican Republic.

Naturally, some of its methods are severe. So are the bullets and bombs of an enemy army in a hot war.

TOO MANY people are unaware that the investigative work being done by the United States today through the CIA is one of the most important bulwarks against the Communists, who, by infiltration, are seeking to take over small countries everywhere.

One test of the effectiveness of the CIA is whether the Communists will be able to gain control of Latin-American countries from Mexico southward, and whether the United States will be confronted with bases which could be operated by hostile forces capable of using missiles and nuclear weapons.

The cold war is not a moral or ethical affair. Neither side is polite in waging its war, but the duty of the press, including television and radio, is to cooperate with their own government in withholding information concerning the activities of any governmental agency which is engaged in secret operations to protect the American people against sudden attack.

During both world wars, the press voluntarily submitted to its own censorship and withheld information that could be of possible aid or comfort to the enemy.

The cold war is in the same category. There are certain military facts and intelligence operations that ought to be kept secret.

THE TELEVISION program gave many viewers the impression that the CIA operates entirely on its own, that there is no restraint or check upon its operations, and that it is therefore virtually irresponsible. Allen Dulles, former director of the CIA, said in an all-too-brief rebuttal on that program, there are four committees of Congress—two in the House and two in the Senate—to which the CIA reports regularly and answers any questions that the legislators ask.

The President also is kept fully imformed and has his own intelligence advisory board. No move of any importance is taken without the knowledge of both the President and Congressional committees.

Nothing is, however, published. The committee hearings are secret. Both Republicans and Democrats have maintained silence about these sessions, because they have thought it was the patriotic thing to do.

Trial

charged with slaying Viola Liuzzo of Detroit, Mich., are awaiting trial. The charges against them also have been carried over to the September term. Those defendants are Eugene Thomas, 42, and William Orville Eaton, 41, both of Bessemer, Ala.

The three Klansmen also are under federal indictment on civil rights charges. They are free on $50,000 bond each on the federal indictments and $10,000 on the first-degree murder counts in State Court. No trial date has been set on the federal charges.

Flowers expressed belief that even though the jury went home without a verdict in Wilkins' trial, it may serve as a deterrent to Klan members bent on racial violence.

"They know now that there was one FBI undercover agent in their ranks," the attorney general continued, "and there may be others. They're really going to have to reconnoiter and take inventory. They won't know who might be an FBI informer and who isn't."

He referred to the disclosure that the state's key witness against the chain-smoking Wilkins was an admitted FBI plant inside the Klan.

The witness, Gary Thomas Rowe Jr., identified Wilkins as the one whose bullets killed the Detroit mother of five children as she shuttled civil rights marchers back to Selma the night of March 25 following the "freedom march" to Montgomery. She had taken part in the march herself.

Rowe said he, Wilkins, Thomas and Eaton were in the car from which the volley of pistol shots was fired almost at point-blank range. But although he, too, had a gun, he said he didn't use it.

The two jurors who insisted on acquittal were Dan Lee, a Fort Deposit mechanic, and Billy R. Cheatham, office manager for a large lumber fabricator. Cheatham also lives at Fort Deposit.

Humphrey Tops List For Democrat Parley

CINCINNATI (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey heads the list of Democrats scheduled to attend a high-level meeting here Monday.

President Johnson will not attend, sources said Friday, although at first it was believed he might.

Even If France Won't Join

Johnson Tells De Gaulle Of Atlantic Partner Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson has told Charles de Gaulle the United States will go ahead with plans to weld an Atlantic partnership — whether France stands aloof or not.

Though Johnson mentioned neither the French president nor France by name, there was no doubt about his intended target when he said Friday: "There are some efforts today to replace partnership with suspicion, and the drive toward unity with a policy of division.

"We will go all together if we can. But if one of us cannot join in a common venture, it will not stand in the way of the rest of us."

The President chose the 20th anniversary of the end of World War II in Europe for what aides called his first major policy speech on Europe since his inauguration Jan. 20. The Early Bird communications satellite carried the address across the Atlantic, and it was broadcst to the American people.

In outlining a six-point agenda of "urgent and unfinished business" for the Atlantic community, Johnson said, "First we must hasten the slow erosion of the Iron Curtain."

"We must work toward an agreement with the Soviet Union," he said. "Our firmness in danger has shown that the door to conquest in the West is forever closed. Thus, the door to peaceful settlement is now open."

Johnson also repeated a U.S. pledge to work for the right of self-determination of the German people.

Germans on both sides of the Iron Curtain, he said, "must be allowed freely to choose their own future."

Johnson's references to France appeared to reply to De Gaulle's April 27 speech, in which the general — without naming the United States — stressed his country's independence of Washington and its refusal to accept American leadership.

Said Johnson:

"The peoples of the Atlantic will not return to that narrow nationalism which has torn and bloodied the fabric of our society for generations. . .

"The kind of nationalism which would blight the hopes and destroy the dream of European unity and Atlantic partnership is in the true interest of no free nation on earth."

In listing the erosion of the Iron Curtain as the first of six items of unfinished business, Johnson announced — without getting specific — he will recommend measures to Congress to increase trade between Eastern Europe and the United States.

Second, the President listed working for the reunification of Germany. "The shame of the Eastern zone must be ended," he said. "It serves the real interest of none."

Count

ately," he said. "The fact that close races stood up in a comparison of the official and unofficial tabulations is a tribute to the fundamental honesty and impartiality of the county's election machinery."

The official canvass showed a slightly larger margin for Paul H. Zehnder of Fairmont St. in his victory over Joseph W. Chetwynd of St. Clair Ave. for one of three Republican nominations for councilman - at - large.

The original count credited Zehnder with a margin of 12 votes. But the official canvass widened the gap to 14 votes, with 792 for Zehnder and 778 for Chetwynd.

O'Hanlon pointed out that any candidate who wishes a recount must apply by Wednesday. State law says a recount application must be filed within five days after certification of the official canvass figures.

The official canvass also showed no material change in the outcome of the votes on various special questions and issues.

It showed East Liverpool's total vote was 3,586 — 1,932 Democrats and 1,654 Republicans.

Raise

cost the city an additional $30,940. The cost for a full year will be $53,040.

Affected will be street and incinerator department employes, police, firemen and those employed in the water and sewage departments.

The wages of the water and sewage employes are paid by the Board of Public Utilities, but Council has been proceeding on the assumption that the board will recommend raises for its employes in line with the rest of the workers.

Attending last night's meeting were Ken McCarty, president, Mrs. Catherine Martin, secretary, and Robert Kelly representing Local 677, American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employes Union; Patrolman Orin C. Smith, president, and Police Lt. Charles E. (Bill) Tice of the Fraternal Order of Police, and Fireman Russell Dray, president of Local 24, International Association of Fire Fighters.

They were accompanied by Gerald Cartwright representing Trades and Labor Council.

Council agreed to a 5 per cent wage hike at its meeting Monday night, although most employes attending the meeting termed the increase insufficient. The figure was raised 7 per cent Thursday.

Council and employe representatives met in caucus and the workers' committee agreed to submit alternative methods of computing the raise to their respective departments or locals and then advise Council.

While Council was in caucus examining the legislation, Councilman Floyd Murray pointed out the apparent inequity in the percentage basis against an across - the - board increase. He explained the percentage formula would grant department heads a higher hourly increase than employes.

Following their own caucus, Council called the employe representatives to determine which formula the workers preferred. The special meeting then was postponed to allow workers to meet last night.

charged with slaying Viola Liuzzo of Detroit, Mich., are awaiting trial. The charges against them also have been carried over to the September term. Those defendants are Eugene Thomas, 42, and William Orville Eaton, 41, both of Bessemer, Ala.

The three Klansmen also are under federal indictment on civil rights charges. They are free on $50,000 bond each on the federal indictments and $10,000 on the first-degree murder counts in State Court. No trial date has been set on the federal charges.

Flowers expressed belief that even though the jury went home without a verdict in Wilkins' trial, it may serve as a deterrent to Klan members bent on racial violence.

"They know now that there was one FBI undercover agent in their ranks," the attorney general continued, "and there may be others. They're really going to have to reconnoiter and take inventory. They won't know who might be an FBI informer and who isn't."

He referred to the disclosure that the state's key witness against the chain-smoking Wilkins was an admitted FBI plant inside the Klan.

The witness, Gary Thomas Rowe Jr., identified Wilkins as the one whose bullets killed the Detroit mother of five children as she shuttled civil rights marchers back to Selma the night of March 25 following the "freedom march" to Montgomery. She had taken part in the march herself.

Rowe said he, Wilkins, Thomas and Eaton were in the car from which the volley of pistol shots was fired almost at point-blank range. But although he, too, had a gun, he said he didn't use it.

The two jurors who insisted on acquittal were Dan Lee, a Fort Deposit mechanic, and Billy R. Cheatham, office manager for a large lumber fabricator. Cheatham also lives at Fort Deposit.

Humphrey Tops List For Democrat Parley

CINCINNATI (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey heads the list of Democrats scheduled to attend a high-level meeting here Monday.

President Johnson will not attend, sources said Friday, although at first it was believed he might.

Even If France Won't Join

Johnson Tells De Gaulle Of Atlantic Partner Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson has told Charles de Gaulle the United States will go ahead with plans to weld an Atlantic partnership — whether France stands aloof or not.

Though Johnson mentioned neither the French president nor France by name, there was no doubt about his intended target when he said Friday: "There are some efforts today to replace partnership with suspicion, and the drive toward unity with a policy of division.

"We will go all together if we can. But if one of us cannot join in a common venture, it will not stand in the way of the rest of us."

The President chose the 20th anniversary of the end of World War II in Europe for what aides called his first major policy speech on Europe since his inauguration Jan. 20. The Early Bird communications satellite carried the address across the Atlantic, and it was broadcast to the American people.

In outlining a six-point agenda of "urgent and unfinished business" for the Atlantic community, Johnson said, "First we must hasten the slow erosion of the Iron Curtain."

"We must work toward an agreement with the Soviet Union," he said. "Our firmness in danger has shown that the door to conquest in the West is forever closed. Thus, the door to peaceful settlement is now open."

Johnson also repeated a U.S. pledge to work for the right of self-determination of the German people.

Germans on both sides of the Iron Curtain, he said, "must be allowed freely to choose their own future."

Johnson's references to France appeared to reply to De Gaulle's April 27 speech, in which the general — without naming the United States — stressed his country's independence of Washington and its refusal to accept American leadership.

Said Johnson:

"The peoples of the Atlantic will not return to that narrow nationalism which has torn and bloodied the fabric of our society for generations. . .

"The kind of nationalism which would blight the hopes and destroy the dream of European unity and Atlantic partnership is in the true interest of no free nation on earth."

In listing the erosion of the Iron Curtain as the first of six items of unfinished business, Johnson announced — without getting specific — he will recommend measures to Congress to increase trade between Eastern Europe and the United States.

Second, the President listed working for the reunification of Germany. "The shame of the Eastern zone must be ended," he said. "It serves the real interest of none."

Count

ately," he said. "The fact that close races stood up in a comparison of the official and unofficial tabulations is a tribute to the fundamental honesty and impartiality of the county's election machinery."

The official canvass showed a slightly larger margin for Paul H. Zehnder of Fairmont St. in his victory over Joseph W. Chetwynd of St. Clair Ave. for one of three Republican nominations for councilman - at - large.

The original count credited Zehnder with a margin of 12 votes. But the official canvass widened the gap to 14 votes, with 792 for Zehnder and 778 for Chetwynd.

O'Hanlon pointed out that any candidate who wishes a recount must apply by Wednesday. State law says a recount application must be filed within five days after certification of the official canvass figures.

The official canvass also showed no material change in the outcome of the votes on various special questions and issues.

It showed East Liverpool's total vote was 3,586 — 1,932 Democrats and 1,654 Republicans.

Raise

cost the city an additional $30,940. The cost for a full year will be $53,040.

Affected will be street and incinerator department employes, police, firemen and those employed in the water and sewage departments.

The wages of the water and sewage employes are paid by the Board of Public Utilities, but Council has been proceeding on the assumption that the board will recommend raises for its employes in line with the rest of the workers.

Attending last night's meeting were Ken McCarty, president, Mrs. Catherine Martin, secretary, and Robert Kelly representing Local 677, American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employes Union; Patrolman Orin C. Smith, president, and Police Lt. Charles E. (Bill) Tice of the Fraternal Order of Police, and Fireman Russell Dray, president of Local 24, International Association of Fire Fighters.

They were accompanied by Gerald Cartwright representing Trades and Labor Council.

Council agreed to a 5 per cent wage hike at its meeting Monday night, although most employes attending the meeting termed the increase insufficient. The figure was raised 7 per cent Thursday.

Council and employe representatives met in caucus and the workers' committee agreed to submit alternative methods of computing the raise to their respective departments or locals and then advise Council.

While Council was in caucus examining the legislation, Councilman Floyd Murray pointed out the apparent inequity in the percentage basis against an across - the - board increase. He explained the percentage formula would grant department heads a higher hourly increase than employes.

Following their own caucus, Council called the employe representatives to determine which formula the workers preferred. The special meeting then was postponed to allow workers to meet last night.

Methodists Set Training Course Here

A leaders' training program for area Methodists will be offered June 13-18 at the First Methodist Church here.

It will be sponsored by the Conference Board of Education of the denomination.

Those over 18 interested in becoming a better administrator, teacher or worker in the church school or youth groups may enroll. There will be a fee in conjunction with the program, with many churches in the past bearing the expense for their representatives.

The supervisors of the classes, who will come from various areas of the state, are certified by the Board of Education of the Methodist Church.

Those who enroll as trainees will participate in actual teaching experiences through planning, observing an age group class in session, assisting and evaluating the class procedures. There will be training for leaders of children, youth and adults. Enrollees must plan to attend all sessions.

All participants will meet Sunday, June 13, from 3 to 8:15 p.m. This is a change in time from the original bulletin sent to the churches.

Children's Department trainees will meet Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. and youth and adult trainees from 6:30 p.m. to 10 the same days.

There will be a supper on June 13 and a dinner June 16 for all participants.

Persons who wish to enroll or receive additional information are to call Mrs. Richard C. Martin, registrar, before May 15. Her phone number is FU 5-3735.

Then, you know how annoying and embarrassing it is to remain Anonymous in death. It is possible for any family to express its sentiment adequately, eloquently, and yet, economically with a Graham and Wagner Monument. If your family plot still lacks a Monument, we suggest you visit our newly-stocked showrooms, where you can shop in comfort and privacy, also actually see what you purchase. Our modern facilities enable us to offer estimates within any budget—large or small, and at the same time maintain the highest standard of quality—for which we are known. If you plan to erect a Monument for Memorial Day, NOW is the time to make your selection. For your convenience, we also carry a complete line of beautifully designed Bronze Markers.

Church Women Have 10th Birthday

These past presidents and the general chairman presented the program during the 10th anniversary observance of the East Liverpool Council of United Church Women Friday afternoon at the First Methodist Church when the annual May Fellowship Day luncheon was held. More than 125 attended.

IN DISCUSSING the highlights of their terms of offices, the past officers emphasized the Council provided an opportunity to share Christian experiences with those of other denominations.

Mrs. Dunlap conducted a memorial service for the late Mrs. J. D. McGillivray, who was the second president. Mrs. Burdise Graham, fifth president, was unable to attend because of illness.

The Rev. Frederick Gibbs, acting pastor of the Emmanuel Presbyterian Church, gave the address on the theme for the observance "People, Poverty Plenty."

He reviewed the Johnson administration's war on poverty and discussed underlying causes. He pointed to minority groups, those handicapped by prejudices and lack of education and those held back because of a language barrier. "Christian people must change their attitude about poverty and face the fact that it is as difficult to cope with today as it was yesterday," Rev. Gibbs declared.

Mrs. Caesar Peters, treasurer, dedicated the offering, which amounted to $44.10.

The Rev. Irwin Jennings, pastor of the Calvary Methodist Church, installed the following officers: Mrs. Richards, president; Mrs. Dunlap, first vice president; Mrs. Albert McLain, second vice president; Mrs. John Hayes, recording secretary; Mrs. Hunston Richardson, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Peters, treasurer.

Guests were the Rev. Charles Kampmeyer, pastor of St. John's Evangelical Lutheran Church and president of the Ministerial Association; Fr. William Lawler, pastor of St. Aloysius Catholic Church; the Rev. Albert Rodenhausen, pastor of the First Baptist Church, and Major William Hathorn of the Salvation Army.

Mrs. Sidney Bloor led group singing, with Mrs. L. Dan Richards accompanist. Miss Jessie Henry was in charge of registration.

The Rev. John L. Clark, pastor of the host church, gave the invocation and the Rev. E. C. Traylor of the First Church of Christ the benediction.

Mrs. Rippeth prepared the anniversary program leaflets. The tables were decorated with topiary trees. Members of the WSCS served the meal.

The next event for the Council will be the World Community Day observance Nov. 5.

'Fair Bus' Legislation Hits Snag

By WILLIAM S. VANCE
Review Staff Correspondent

COLUMBUS, Ohio — Backers of proposed public school transportation of parochial and private school children may be left waiting at the bus stop in this session of the Ohio General Assembly.

One of the hottest subjects to roll before the Assembly this year, the so-called "fair bus" legislation has been idling for the last three weeks in a legislative repair shop and apparently will remain there at least three more.

UNLESS IT receives a hefty push from the Rhodes administration — and this remains in doubt — the bus issue may never come to a vote.

After bi-weekly hearings spanning two months in the House Education Committee, the legislation was parked in a five-member subcommittee headed by Rep. Thomas D. Gindlesberger, R-Holmes.

Gindlesberger has made it clear he does not intend to rush back to the Education Committee with any recommendation—with or without a nudge from the administration—until the subcommittee has explored fully the constitutionality of the proposals.

HE INTENDS to call the subcommittee together for the first time Thursday to chart hearing procedures. Open, informal hearings then will continue "for several weeks — at least more than two," he said.

The Millersburg lawyer is concerned that any bill permitting or requiring equal school bus transportation will collide with a section of Ohio's Constitution which says:

"The General Assembly shall make such provisions, by taxation, or otherwise, as, with the income arising from the school trust fund, will secure a thorough and efficient system of common schools throughout the state; but no religious or other sect, or sects, shall ever have any exclusive right to, or control of, any part of the school funds of this state."

Right or wrong in his interpretation, Gindlesberger wants to hear testimony "from the best legal talent on both sides of the issues."

Two bills pending in the subcommittee are permissive and one is mandatory. Also pending is a resolution to put the issue on the November ballot as a proposed constitutional amendment, an approach Gindlesberger seems to favor over any bill.

The administration's attitude at this point is veiled by conflicting reports.

Rep. Ralph Konen, R-Hamilton, sponsor of the mandatory bill backed by an organization called Citizens for Educational Freedom CEF, said Gov. James A. Rhodes has pledged his support to a permissive bill affording the right of appeal from school board action in granting or denying equal transportation.

CEF IS willing to settle for this, according to Kohnen, even though it would shift the burden of decision from the legislature to individual school boards.

Kohnen and a source close to CEF said Rhodes' promise was made in return for CEF's pledge to call off a threatened campaign to urge a powerful negative vote by Ohio Catholics on the four state issues last Tuesday.

About a week before the primaries, CEF ran the first of an intended series of newspaper advertisements implying turnabout was fair play on the issues in light of nonaction on the bus legislation.

This was when the alleged deal was supposed to have been made.

FUTHERMORE, he said, there is no administration effort, "as of the moment," to push any legislation on the bus issue.

He declined to comment on the meaning of "as of the moment."

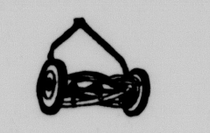

So far as Gindlesberger is concerned, administration pressure won't affect the pace of his subcommittee.

"I'm a Republican but I look on Jim Rhodes just as I did Mike DiSalle when it comes to front-office dictation and Jim knows this," he said. "I expect no interference."

Even if a proposal should roll out of the subcommittee in three weeks, it would be running a tight race with the clock along a tortuous legislative road.

It would have to be accepted and recommended by the Education Committee and then the House Rules Committee before it could reach the House floor.

If approved by the House, it would have another winding path ahead of it in the Senate.

DESIGN YOUR ROOM AROUND THIS LIGHT, GRACEFUL
Hammond Home Model Organ

The lovely spinet design is styled to blend into nearly any home decor. It is often the choice of professional organists because of its rich tone and many features: Harmonic Drawbars, Permanent Pitch, Touch-Response Percussion, 25-Note Pedal Keyboard, Pre-set Combinations (so a mere touch changes the tone quality as you play).

You can own any Hammond Organ for only $25 down, with low monthly payments.

Or under the Hammond Play-Time Plan, you can have the organ in your home for 30 days, 6 lessons — only $25. If you keep the organ (and you'll want to), the $25 is your down payment.

Church Women Have 10th Birthday

These past presidents and the general chairman presented the program during the 10th anniversary observance of the East Liverpool Council of United Church Women Friday afternoon at the First Methodist Church when the annual May Fellowship Day luncheon was held. More than 125 attended.

IN DISCUSSING the highlights of their terms of offices, the past officers emphasized the Council provided an opportunity to share Christian experiences with those of other denominations.

Mrs. Dunlap conducted a memorial service for the late Mrs. J. D. McGillivray, who was the second president. Mrs. Burdise Graham, fifth president, was unable to attend because of illness.

The Rev. Frederick Gibbs, acting pastor of the Emmanuel Presbyterian Church, gave the address on the theme for the observance "People, Poverty Plenty."

He reviewed the Johnson administration's war on poverty and discussed underlying causes. He pointed to minority groups, those handicapped by prejudices and lack of education and those held back because of a language barrier. "Christian people must change their attitude about poverty and face the fact that it is as difficult to cope with today as it was yesterday," Rev. Gibbs declared.

Mrs. Caesar Peters, treasurer, dedicated the offering, which amounted to $44.10.

The Rev. Irwin Jennings, pastor of the Calvary Methodist Church, installed the following officers: Mrs. Richards, president; Mrs. Dunlap, first vice president; Mrs. Albert McLain, second vice president; Mrs. John Hayes, recording secretary; Mrs. Hunston Richardson, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Peters, treasurer.

Guests were the Rev. Charles Kampmeyer, pastor of St. John's Evangelical Lutheran Church and president of the Ministerial Association; Fr. William Lawler, pastor of St. Aloysius Catholic Church; the Rev. Albert Rodenhausen, pastor of the First Baptist Church, and Major William Hathorn of the Salvation Army.

Mrs. Sidney Bloor led group singing, with Mrs. L. Dan Richards accompanist. Miss Jessie Henry was in charge of registration.

The Rev. John L. Clark, pastor of the host church, gave the invocation and the Rev. E. C. Traylor of the First Church of Christ the benediction.

Mrs. Rippeth prepared the anniversary program leaflets. The tables were decorated with topiary trees. Members of the WSCS served the meal.

The next event for the Council will be the World Community Day observance Nov. 5.

'Fair Bus' Legislation Hits Snag

By WILLIAM S. VANCE
Review Staff Correspondent

COLUMBUS, Ohio — Backers of proposed public school transportation of parochial and private school children may be left waiting at the bus stop in this session of the Ohio General Assembly.

One of the hottest subjects to roll before the Assembly this year, the so-called "fair bus" legislation has been idling for the last three weeks in a legislative repair shop and apparently will remain there at least three more.

UNLESS IT receives a hefty push from the Rhodes administration — and this remains in doubt — the bus issue may never come to a vote.

After bi-weekly hearings spanning two months in the House Education Committee, the legislation was parked in a five-member subcommittee headed by Rep. Thomas D. Gindlesberger, R-Holmes.

Gindlesberger has made it clear he does not intend to rush back to the Education Committee with any recommendation—with or without a nudge from the administration—until the subcommittee has explored fully the constitutionality of the proposals.

HE INTENDS to call the subcommittee together for the first time Thursday to chart hearing procedures. Open, informal hearings then will continue "for several weeks — at least more than two," he said.

The Millersburg lawyer is concerned that any bill permitting or requiring equal school bus transportation will collide with a section of Ohio's Constitution which says:

"The General Assembly shall make such provisions, by taxation, or otherwise, as, with the income arising from the school trust fund, will secure a thorough and efficient system of common schools throughout the state; but no religious or other sect, or sects, shall ever have any exclusive right to, or control of, any part of the school funds of this state."

Right or wrong in his interpretation, Gindlesberger wants to hear testimony "from the best legal talent on both sides of the issues."

Two bills pending in the subcommittee are permissive and one is mandatory. Also pending is a resolution to put the issue on the November ballot as a proposed constitutional amendment, an approach Gindlesberger seems to favor over any bill.

The administration's attitude at this point is veiled by conflicting reports.

Rep. Ralph Konen, R-Hamilton, sponsor of the mandatory bill backed by an organization called Citizens for Educational Freedom CEF, said Gov. James A. Rhodes has pledged his support to a permissive bill affording the right of appeal from school board action in granting or denying equal transportation.

CEF IS willing to settle for this, according to Kohnen, even though it would shift the burden of decision from the legislature to individual school boards.

Kohnen and a source close to CEF said Rhodes' promise was made in return for CEF's pledge to call off a threatened campaign to urge a powerful negative vote by Ohio Catholics on the four state issues last Tuesday.

About a week before the primaries, CEF ran the first of an intended series of newspaper advertisements implying turnabout was fair play on the issues in light of nonaction on the bus legislation.

This was when the alleged deal was supposed to have been made.

FUTHERMORE, he said, there is no administration effort, "as of the moment," to push any legislation on the bus issue.

He declined to comment on the meaning of "as of the moment."

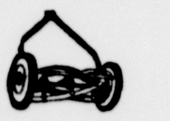

So far as Gindlesberger is concerned, administration pressure won't affect the pace of his subcommittee.

"I'm a Republican but I look on Jim Rhodes just as I did Mike DiSalle when it comes to front-office dictation and Jim knows this," he said. "I expect no interference."

Even if a proposal should roll out of the subcommittee in three weeks, it would be running a tight race with the clock along a tortuous legislative road.

It would have to be accepted and recommended by the Education Committee and then the House Rules Committee before it could reach the House floor.

If approved by the House, it would have another winding path ahead of it in the Senate.

DESIGN YOUR ROOM AROUND THIS LIGHT, GRACEFUL
Hammond Home Model Organ

The lovely spinet design is styled to blend into nearly any home decor. It is often the choice of professional organists because of its rich tone and many features: Harmonic Drawbars, Permanent Pitch, Touch-Response Percussion, 25-Note Pedal Keyboard, Pre-set Combinations (so a mere touch changes the tone quality as you play).

You can own any Hammond Organ for only $25 down, with low monthly payments.

Or under the Hammond Play-Time Plan, you can have the organ in your home for 30 days, 6 lessons — only $25. If you keep the organ (and you'll want to), the $25 is your down payment.

Boys And Girls Prepare For Annual Gymnastics Exhibition Next Week At East Junior High School

By ROBERT DUFFY

Over 100 boys and girls are applying the finishing touches in rehearsals for the ninth annual gymnastic show to be presented Thursday and Friday nights at the school.

The gymnastic program at East, under the direction of Mrs. Gyla Nicely and Dom Cascio, physical education instructors, is one of the most extensive programs to be found in the area.

Paul Jones of East Liverpool, a veteran gymnast who performed in many exhibitions here several years ago, is assisting Mrs. Nicely and Cascio.

The show is proof of the success of the program which is done on a voluntary basis by the students.

THE ANNUAL EVENT draws capacity crowds, and this year, two performances instead of the customary one, will be given. Proceeds are used to purchase gymnastic equipment.

Gymnastics gives the school physical education program broader dimension. It is more than just athletics for physically gifted boys and girls, for it provides body building and strengthening exercises throughout the school for students who might not participate in other sports.

The program at East is complete, including trampoline, minnie trampolines, tumbling, parallel bars, horizontal bar, vaulting buck, rings and balance beam.

Folk and square dancing also is included in the program.

Gymnastics has a long history, not only in the United States but in Europe where students have for many years worked out in gyms and perform the rhythmic and complicated mass exercises in rank upon rank before stadium crowds.

In America, Germans in the 19th and early 20th Century formed Turnverein groups for gymnastics. An East Liverpool Turners Society operated in a hall along Walnut St. between 1890 and 1905.

THE TRAMPOLINE is the newest piece of gymnastic equipment and is excellent for developing legs and balance. But it is hazardous and when a performer is on the trampoline, other students act as spotters and surround the trampoline as a protective measure.

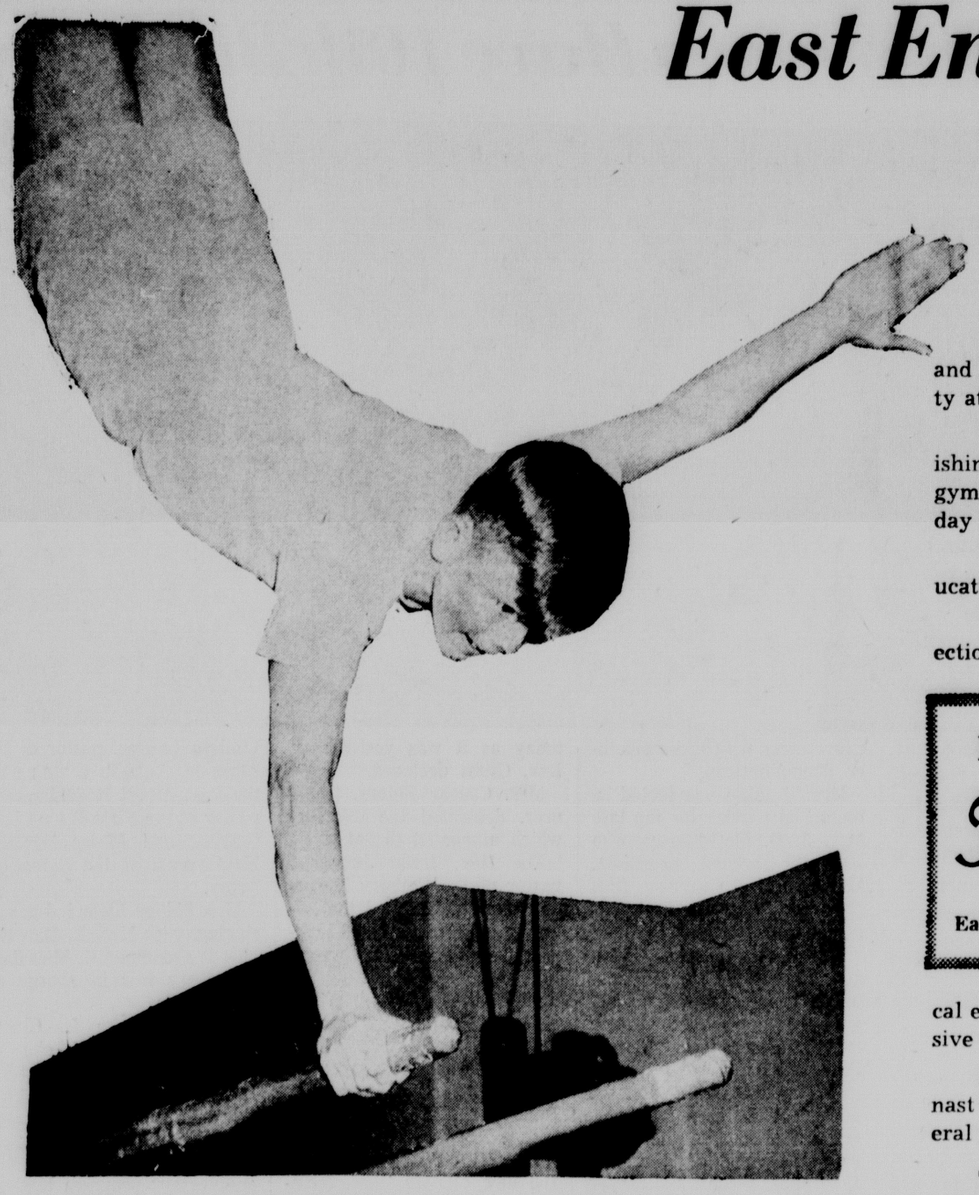

Performers have been known to lose their balance and have suffered serious injury in falls or awkward landings. The spotters are a necessity.

Most of the gymnastic equipment builds the shoulders, upper arms and chest along with giving the performer coordination, balance and confidence.

Alex Cycyn, president of the Student Council, said, "I think the gymnastic program is a big benefit to our students. Other schools don't have such a program, and a lot of credit should be given to Mrs. Nicely and Mr. Cascio for their extra time and effort."

Susan Vohar, who has been a member of the gymnastic group for two years, said "I feel the program is important to the physical fitness of the students. The students work hard and I feel our show next week will be very successful."

"Look Mom, one hand," says Dave Pridemore as he performs a difficult stand on the parallel bars.

Vicki James bounces over the trampoline as her spotters maintain a vital safety watch around the sides

'Swing your partner' is the call as East Junior High School students whirl through a square dance routine, part of the action-filled and entertaining gymnastics show scheduled Thursday and Friday.

Area Civil War Men Involved In Worst U.S. River Disaster

By GLENN WAIGHT

An Ohio Civil War regiment, in which a large number of Columbiana County men served, was involved in one of the world's worst and least known boat disasters 100 years ago.

The steamboat Sultana, loaded with nearly 2,000 sick and starved Union soldiers freed from Southern prison camps, blew up in the middle of the swollen Mississippi River north of Memphis, Tenn., April 27, 1865, with a loss of 1,500 men.

Eighty of the dead were members of the 115th Ohio Volunteer Infantry regiment which consisted of men from Columbiana, Stark and Summit Counties.

The county contingent included Companies D, M, K and A, the latter known as "The Liverpool Tigers," and commanded by Lt. Col. H. R. Hill of East Liverpool.

The Stark County men were in Companies B, E, F and I, while the Summit men were in Companies C and G.

The 115th's primary service during the war had been guarding railroads and military positions in Kentucky and Tennessee. A contingent of 100 men in a blockhouse on the railroad at Lavergne, Tenn., courageously repulsed a much larger Confederate force in Aug. 31, 1964, and the regiment acquitted itself well in other combat.

In December 1964, Gen. John B. Hood's forces overpowered the Union troops along the same line at Lavergne and some 140 men of the 115th were captured in their blockhouses.

THESE MEN WERE held prisoner at various sites during the early part of 1865, then, as the Confederacy began to crumble, were paroled, and joining thousands of other Union prisoners and wounded seeking to return to the North.

The Sultana had been built and put into service at Cincinnati in 1863. She had two big smokestacks and side paddle wheels and was certified to carry 376 people, including her crew.

Capt. James Mason, part owner of the craft, was paid $5 for each enlisted man and $10 for each officer aboard, and with the Army itself eager to get its men up North, there seemed to be no qualms about jamming as many on the Sultana as it could carry.

The exact number aboard is not known. Army reports had 1,966 men on her, the boat clerk estimated 2,200, plus 100 regular passengers, 85 crew members and some animals.

With its boiler patched, the Sultana put out again, pushing along the banks against the heavy current of the Mississippi swollen with spring floods.

THE BOAT STOPPED at Helena, Ark., where the mass of men aboard was warned against moving about too much lest the craft capsize. When a photographer was spotted on the shore taking a picture, the troops surged to that side, causing the Sultana to list 20 degrees, placing the opposite paddle wheel entirely out of the water.

The boat cast off her lines at 1 a. m. April 27, leaving behind the river town which was buzzing about the news of the slaying of President Lincoln and the end of the war.

A storm was approaching with lightning flashing, and the air was oppressive.

At 2 a. m., as the Sultana passed a small group of islands seven miles up from Memphis, a tremendous explosion ripped one of the boat's four boilers, splitting the top deck and toppling the smokestacks.

Flying metal and wood and scalding steam killed several passengers instantly. Others were blown off the steamer. Fire broke out and began to spread in the whipping wind of the storm which had now struck.

CAPT. MASON ordered the crew to form a bucket brigade to fight the blaze, but most of them joined the panic-stricken soldiers leaping over the rails.

Men died in the crush to flee the burning boat, or when other men jumped on them in the water. The swift, muddy waters of the river swept hundreds to their deaths.

Many of those who managed to grab a piece of wood on which to float were shoved off by stronger, half-crazed men.

Swimmers attempted to reach the shore which they believed to be close, because the Sultana had kept near the banks during the day to avoid the flood current. But when the blast occurred, the boat was in midstream, and the shore, because of the flood, was as much as four miles distant.

There were no lifeboats on the steamboat, and window shutters and cabin doors were thrown in the water for use as life preservers. Capt. Mason was last seen tossing shutters over the railings to those in the water. He was never seen again.

WITHIN AN HOUR and a half, there was not a living person on the burned hulk. The packet Bostonia II had come upon the scene, its captain first thinking he was approaching a forest fire. About 100 survivors were picked up by the Bostonia.

By dawn, small boats and rafts were picking up other chilled, naked victims, many of whom had been scalded in the boiler blast. About 800 of the living were pulled from the water.

For months afterward, bodies were found as far south as Vicksburg. The actual toll has never been fully determined — the Army listed 1,238 dead, the U.S. Customs service reported 1,547 lost, while other sources list as many as 1,647 victims.

Of the 115th Regiment, 80 men were lost, including Adam Hendricks and Thomas Rue of the Salineville area, in Co. F, and Edward Garrett of Fairfield, a musician in Co. H. The rest of the victims were primarily from Summit and Stark Counties.

The nation's worst river disaster and possibly the world's worst maritime tragedies (1,517 died when the Titanic sank), it got little attention in a country which had just ended a bloody civil war and lost its President by assassination.

The New York Times two days after the explosion carried a story five inches long on Page Four. The news of the day was buried in national mourning for the martyred President.

Auxiliary Serves Hospital

Everything from "Pinkie Puppets" to console a homesick child to $25,000 fund pledges and $1,580 examining tables have been provided City Hospital by the Hospital Auxiliary, a busy and active organization for over a half century.

Since 1954, the Auxiliary has spent $82,300 directly on hospital projects, along with $8,800 for other programs beneficial for the hospital.

The 204 members are involved in assisting hospital operations, serving patients and raising money for the organization's expanding activities.

Women were responsible for the initial move toward establishing a hospital in East Liverpool as early as 1896. The present site of the City Hospital was obtained in 1903 by the Hospital Association, then composed entirely of women.

In 1907 business men joined the Association's membership to provide financial guidance, and after the new wing was built in 1912, the Women's Auxiliary was formed to help pay off the debts.

At the dedication of the wing, the new auxiliary held a fair, with booths in the rooms, to sell canned goods, towels and other items.

ON THROUGH the 1920's the auxiliary sponsored movies, garden parties, card parties and such projects as a bazaar which raised $1,000 not used until the building campaign of the 1950's.

In 1934, the auxiliary formed the Twigs, small groups to serve the hospital under auxiliary guidance, since the organization itself was busy making bandages and surgical dressings. Fourteen other twig units were shortly created to sponsor parties, plays and bazaars for funds.

By 1951, a lending library was launched to serve patients. A $25,000 pledge for the planned new hospital wing was made in 1953, along with starting of the remembrance fund in which donors contribute on anniversaries or in the event of a death. The auxiliary also joined the American Hospital Association and began a nurses library.

The following year, the baby photo service was inaugurated in the obstetrics department by the auxiliary.

With the opening of the new hospital wing in September 1954, the auxiliary also began operation of its new Snack Bar and Gift Shop in the wing, staffed by auxiliary members.

In 1956 the women started making the lovable pink puppets to give to children when admitted to the pediatrics department at no cost to the family.

With the cooperation of the trustees and the Ministerial Association, a chapel was established in the hospital in 1960, financed with money from the remembrance fund, to provide a small but private place of worship.

THE AUXILIARY also began setting aside $500 annually for a student nurse recreation program, with trips to Pittsburgh, movies, parties, picnics and other wholesome entertainment.

The "Pinkie Puppet" project, amounting to $300 each year, has cost the Auxiliary $3,300 since it was started, and $5,500 has been spent for the student nurse recreation project.

Through the years, the auxiliary has worked for the passage of hospital levies, and has purchased a wide range of important equipment for the hospital — resuscitators, operating tables and other articles, apart from the bedlamps, tables, wheel chairs and other non-medical furniture.

In 1964-65, the Auxiliary has spent $1,426 for two transportation tables, $3,160 for two examining tables, $300 for two wheel chairs, plus $1,653 for a piano for the Harker-Metsch Nurses Home and hospital chairs.

The organization also aids the annual nurses graduation program and provides Christmas wreaths for the hospital.

A traditional part of the long history of community service by the hospital, the Auxiliary looks toward the future with hopes and plans for an even larger role in helping the hospital and the people in it— patients and medical staff.

You And The Law

Harry, the Housebreaker, finally got caught one dark night while burglarizing a hardware store. Caught with the goods they had him "cold" and he knew it. He was found guilty.

When the pre-sentence investigation showed no record of gainful honest employment or any personal attitude indicating Harry would be a good probation risk, the judge pronounced the statutory sentence of not less than one nor more than 15 years.

Harry was a difficult prisoner, so it was more than seven years before he was paroled. For about a month he was a "good boy," but the old habits started to come back. Sure enough, three months and three days later Harry got into trouble again. This time he was observed stealing a new set of fancy hubcaps worth $75.

THE LAW nabbed Harry again and promptly deposited him back in the penitentiary for the hub cap violation. Again the judge refused to grant Harry probation, because he could not believe that Harry, a parole violator, was "not likely to again engage in an offensive course of conduct".

So again the judge pronounced the statutory sentence of imprisonment of not less than one nor more than seven years. But something new had been added — Harry had been declared a parole violator on his first conviction. Harry didn't worry about this, though. After all, he was already in jail, what more could they do to him.

Harry eventually found out. When he was released after serving time for the "hub cap caper," the long arm of the law held onto him. Because he violated his parole, he would have to return to serve the remainder of his first term.

"Wait a minute," Harry said, "that sentence is over and done. That was only for 15 years. I served seven and a half years on that, seven years on my latest imprisonment, and was out six months. As the sentences ran concurrently, I've served all the time on both raps."

UNFORTUNATELY for Harry, Ohio law is very specific on how sentences will be served in jail. The trial court must specifically state that sentences are to run concurrently (at the same time). Otherwise, it will be presumed that the sentences will run consecutively (one at a time).

The fact that Harry was returned to prison for stealing hub caps did not start the clock running again on his burglary conviction.

Under provision of the Ohio law, a sentence ceases to run on the declaration of a parole violation and does not start until the parolee is available for return to jail to serve such a sentence. Harry was convicted on another crime and sent to prison for that specific offense. Therefore, he was not available to serve his sentence for parole violation.

Stamps In The News

A rejected design for the original John F. Kennedy memorial stamp appears on the 11-cent JFK aerogramme scheduled for issuance in Boston on May 29. The lightweight "make - it - yourself" envelope provides low cost airmail service to anywhere in the world.

The Kennedy profile portrait appears over a silhouette of a jet plane. The first-day ceremonies on May 29 occur on the 48th birthday anniversary of the late President.

Israel has issued two new stamps honoring Independence Day, reports the Israel Philatelic Agency. Depicted is a major Israeli feat — the irrigation of the desert. The 37 agorot stamp shows a cutaway of the National Water Carrier, a pipeline to transform the arid regions of the Negev into fruitful communities.

Also issued by Israel is a new stamp commemorating the 20th anniversary of the liberation of the Nazi prison camps by Allied troops in 1945. Depicted are the gnarled hands of victims reaching for hope, the tattered sleeve of a prison uniform and the Yellow Star of David—a mockery of the religious symbol which Jews were forced to wear under the Nazi yoke.

Ghana marks the 100th anniversary of the death of Abraham Lincoln by issuing four stamps. Ghana previously honored the birth of Lincoln with a stamp set in 1958. The new stamps show Lincoln's home and a vignette portrait, a portion of his Inauguration Address and a bust portrait, a full view portrait over his signature and an adaptation of the U.S. 1869 Lincoln stamp.

Iran has issued two new stamps for the 14th anniversary of the nationalization of its oil industry.

Area Civil War Men Involved In Worst U.S. River Disaster

By GLENN WAIGHT

An Ohio Civil War regiment, in which a large number of Columbiana County men served, was involved in one of the world's worst and least known boat disasters 100 years ago.

The steamboat Sultana, loaded with nearly 2,000 sick and starved Union soldiers freed from Southern prison camps, blew up in the middle of the swollen Mississippi River north of Memphis, Tenn., April 27, 1865, with a loss of 1,500 men.

Eighty of the dead were members of the 115th Ohio Volunteer Infantry regiment which consisted of men from Columbiana, Stark and Summit Counties.

The county contingent included Companies D, M, K and A, the latter known as "The Liverpool Tigers," and commanded by Lt. Col. H. R. Hill of East Liverpool.

The Stark County men were in Companies B, E, F and I, while the Summit men were in Companies C and G.

The 115th's primary service during the war had been guarding railroads and military positions in Kentucky and Tennessee. A contingent of 100 men in a blockhouse on the railroad at Lavergne, Tenn., courageously repulsed a much larger Confederate force in Aug. 31, 1964, and the regiment acquitted itself well in other combat.

In December 1964, Gen. John B. Hood's forces overpowered the Union troops along the same line at Lavergne and some 140 men of the 115th were captured in their blockhouses.

THESE MEN WERE held prisoner at various sites during the early part of 1865, then, as the Confederacy began to crumble, were paroled, and joining thousands of other Union prisoners and wounded seeking to return to the North.

The Sultana had been built and put into service at Cincinnati in 1863. She had two big smokestacks and side paddle wheels and was certified to carry 376 people, including her crew.

The boat limped into Vicksburg, Miss., April 23, 1865, with a leaky boiler, heavily loaded with Union soldiers and officers anxious to get home.

Capt. James Mason, part owner of the craft, was paid $5 for each enlisted man and $10 for each officer aboard, and with the Army itself eager to get its men up North, there seemed to be no qualms about jamming as many on the Sultana as it could carry.

The exact number aboard is not known. Army reports had 1,966 men on her, the boat clerk estimated 2,200, plus 100 regular passengers, 85 crew members and some animals.

With its boiler patched, the Sultana put out again, pushing along the banks against the heavy current of the Mississippi swollen with spring floods.

THE BOAT STOPPED at Helena, Ark., where the mass of men aboard was warned against moving about too much lest the craft capsize. When a photographer was spotted on the shore taking a picture, the troops surged to that side, causing the Sultana to list 20 degrees, placing the opposite paddle wheel entirely out of the water.

The boat cast off her lines at 1 a. m. April 27, leaving behind the river town which was buzzing about the news of the slaying of President Lincoln and the end of the war.

A storm was approaching with lightning flashing, and the air was oppressive.

At 2 a. m., as the Sultana passed a small group of islands seven miles up from Memphis, a tremendous explosion ripped one of the boat's four boilers, splitting the top deck and toppling the smokestacks.

Flying metal and wood and scalding steam killed several passengers instantly. Others were blown off the steamer. Fire broke out and began to spread in the whipping wind of the storm which had now struck.

CAPT. MASON ordered the crew to form a bucket brigade to fight the blaze, but most of them joined the panic-stricken soldiers leaping over the rails.

Men died in the crush to flee the burning boat, or when other men jumped on them in the water. The swift, muddy waters of the river swept hundreds to their deaths.

Many of those who managed to grab a piece of wood on which to float were shoved off by stronger, half-crazed men.

Swimmers attempted to reach the shore which they believed to be close, because the Sultana had kept near the banks during the day to avoid the flood current. But when the blast occurred, the boat was in midstream, and the shore, because of the flood, was as much as four miles distant.

There were no lifeboats on the steamboat, and window shutters and cabin doors were thrown in the water for use as life preservers. Capt. Mason was last seen tossing shutters over the railings to those in the water. He was never seen again.

WITHIN AN HOUR and a half, there was not a living person on the burned hulk. The packet Bostonia II had come upon the scene, its captain first thinking he was approaching a forest fire. About 100 survivors were picked up by the Bostonia.

By dawn, small boats and rafts were picking up other chilled, naked victims, many of whom had been scalded in the boiler blast. About 800 of the living were pulled from the water.

For months afterward, bodies were found as far south as Vicksburg. The actual toll has never been fully determined — the Army listed 1,238 dead, the U.S. Customs service reported 1,547 lost, while other sources list as many as 1,647 victims.

Of the 115th Regiment, 80 men were lost, including Adam Hendricks and Thomas Rue of the Salineville area, in Co. F, and Edward Garrett of Fairfield, a musician in Co. H. The rest of the victims were primarily from Summit and Stark Counties.

The nation's worst river disaster and possibly the world's worst maritime tragedies (1,517 died when the Titanic sank), it got little attention in a country which had just ended a bloody civil war and lost its President by assassination.

The New York Times two days after the explosion carried a story five inches long on Page Four. The news of the day was buried in national mourning for the martyred President.

Patients And Staff Helped

Auxiliary Serves Hospital

Everything from "Pinkie Puppets" to console a homesick child to $25,000 fund pledges and $1,580 examining tables have been provided City Hospital by the Hospital Auxiliary, a busy and active organization for over a half century.

Since 1954, the Auxiliary has spent $82,300 directly on hospital projects, along with $8,800 for other programs beneficial for the hospital.

The 204 members are involved in assisting hospital operations, serving patients and raising money for the organization's expanding activities.

Women were responsible for the initial move toward establishing a hospital in East Liverpool as early as 1896. The present site of the City Hospital was obtained in 1903 by the Hospital Association, then composed entirely of women.

In 1907 business men joined the Association's membership to provide financial guidance, and after the new wing was built in 1912, the Women's Auxiliary was formed to help pay off the debts.

At the dedication of the wing, the new auxiliary held a fair, with booths in the rooms, to sell canned goods, towels and other items.

ON THROUGH the 1920's the auxiliary sponsored movies, garden parties, card parties and such projects as a bazaar which raised $1,000 not used until the building campaign of the 1950's.

In 1934, the auxiliary formed the Twigs, small groups to serve the hospital under auxiliary guidance, since the organization itself was busy making bandages and surgical dressings. Fourteen other twig units were shortly created to sponsor parties, plays and bazaars for funds.

By 1951, a lending library was launched to serve patients. A $25,000 pledge for the planned new hospital wing was made in 1953, along with starting of the remembrance fund in which donors contribute on anniversaries or in the event of a death. The auxiliary also joined the American Hospital Association and began a nurses library.

The following year, the baby photo service was inaugurated in the obstetrics department by the auxiliary.

With the opening of the new hospital wing in September 1954, the auxiliary also began operation of its new Snack Bar and Gift Shop in the wing, staffed by auxiliary members.

In 1956 the women started making the lovable pink puppets to give to children when admitted to the pediatrics department at no cost to the family.

With the cooperation of the trustees and the Ministerial Association, a chapel was established in the hospital in 1960, financed with money from the remembrance fund, to provide a small but private place of worship.

THE AUXILIARY also began setting aside $500 annually for a student nurse recreation program, with trips to Pittsburgh, movies, parties, picnics and other wholesome entertainment.

The "Pinkie Puppet" project, amounting to $300 each year, has cost the Auxiliary $3,300 since it was started, and $5,500 has been spent for the student nurse recreation project.

Through the years, the auxiliary has worked for the passage of hospital levies, and has purchased a wide range of important equipment for the hospital — resuscitators, operating tables and other articles, apart from the bedlamps, tables, wheel chairs and other non-medical furniture.

In 1964-65, the Auxiliary has spent $1,426 for two transportation tables, $3,160 for two examining tables, $300 for two wheel chairs, plus $1,653 for a piano for the Harker-Metsch Nurses Home and hospital chairs.

The organization also aids the annual nurses graduation program and provides Christmas wreaths for the hospital.

A traditional part of the long history of community service by the hospital, the Auxiliary looks toward the future with hopes and plans for an even larger role in helping the hospital and the people in it — patients and medical staff.

You And The Law

Harry, the Housebreaker, finally got caught one dark night while burglarizing a hardware store. Caught with the goods they had him "cold" and he knew it. He was found guilty.

When the pre-sentence investigation showed no record of gainful honest employment or any personal attitude indicating Harry would be a good probation risk, the judge pronounced the statutory sentence of not less than one nor more than 15 years.

Harry was a difficult prisoner, so it was more than seven years before he was paroled. For about a month he was a "good boy," but the old habits started to come back. Sure enough, three months and three days later Harry got into trouble again. This time he was observed stealing a new set of fancy hubcaps worth $75.

THE LAW nabbed Harry again and promptly deposited him back in the penitentiary for the hub cap violation. Again the judge refused to grant Harry probation, because he could not believe that Harry, a parole violator, was "not likely to again engage in an offensive course of conduct".

So again the judge pronounced the statutory sentence of imprisonment of not less than one nor more than seven years. But something new had been added — Harry had been declared a parole violator on his first conviction. Harry didn't worry about this, though. After all, he was already in jail, what more could they do to him.

Harry eventually found out. When he was released after serving time for the "hub cap caper," the long arm of the law held onto him. Because he violated his parole, he would have to return to serve the remainder of his first term.

"Wait a minute," Harry said, "that sentence is over and done. That was only for 15 years. I served seven and a half years on that, seven years on my latest imprisonment, and was out six months. As the sentences ran concurrently, I've served all the time on both raps."

UNFORTUNATELY for Harry, Ohio law is very specific on how sentences will be served in jail. The trial court must specifically state that sentences are to run concurrently (at the same time). Otherwise, it will be presumed that the sentences will run consecutively (one at a time).

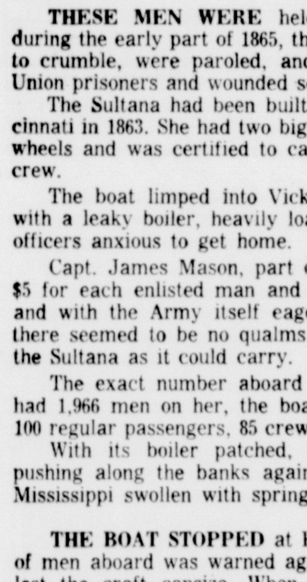

The fact that Harry was returned to prison for stealing hub caps did not start the clock running again on his burglary conviction.

Under provision of the Ohio law, a sentence ceases to run on the declaration of a parole violation and does not start until the parolee is available for return to jail to serve such a sentence. Harry was convicted on another crime and sent to prison for that specific offense. Therefore, he was not available to serve his sentence for parole violation.

Stamps In The News

A rejected design for the original John F. Kennedy memorial stamp appears on the 11-cent JFK aerogramme scheduled for issuance in Boston on May 29. The lightweight "make - it - yourself" envelope provides low cost airmail service to anywhere in the world.

The Kennedy profile portrait appears over a silhouette of a jet plane. The first-day ceremonies on May 29 occur on the 48th birthday anniversary of the late President.

Israel has issued two new stamps honoring Independence Day, reports the Israel Philatelic Agency. Depicted is a major Israeli feat — the irrigation of the desert. The 37 agorot stamp shows a cutaway of the National Water Carrier, a pipeline to transform the arid regions of the Negev into fruitful communities.

Also issued by Israel is a new stamp commemorating the 20th anniversary of the liberation of the Nazi prison camps by Allied troops in 1945. Depicted are the gnarled hands of victims reaching for hope, the tattered sleeve of a prison uniform and the Yellow Star of David—a mockery of the religious symbol which Jews were forced to wear under the Nazi yoke.

Ghana marks the 100th anniversary of the death of Abraham Lincoln by issuing four stamps. Ghana previously honored the birth of Lincoln with a stamp set in 1958. The new stamps show Lincoln's home and a vignette portrait, a portion of his Inauguration Address and a bust portrait, a full view portrait over his signature and an adaptation of the U.S. 1869 Lincoln stamp.

Iran has issued two new stamps for the 14th anniversary of the nationalization of its oil industry.

Current Civic Music Program To End

Scene From Monday Night's Opera

This is a scene from "La Boheme," which will be presented Monday night by the Turnau Opera Players in the final program of the current season of the Tri-State Civic Music Association.

The opera, a "bonus" offering for new members, will begin at 8:15 at the Westgate School auditorium.

Paul Blair, association president, said a table will be set up in the auditorium hall where memberships may be purchased in conjunction with the current campaign.

This is a return performance for the opera company. It presented "The Barber of Seville" last season.

The group is comprised of former students of the late Prof. Josef Turnau, who once was a leading stage director in Europe. His career in the United States was dedicated to the fostering of young operatic talent to the end that opera might become here, as in Europe, a widely enjoyed and practiced part of our way of life.

For the last six seasons, the company has been organized as a nonprofit educational institution and enjoys a tax-exempt status. It takes professional opera into smaller communities and furnishes experience for young singers and production personnel.

The opera "La Boheme" (The Bohemian) will be sung in English.

International Exhibitors Rap World's Fair Prices

"How can a foreign exhibitor project an image when there is only a handful of people to project it to?" asked Col. Nils-Magnus von Arbin, commissioner general of the Swedish Pavilion.

"If the fair admission prices were lowered as we have asked," he said, "millions of more people would come to the fair and give us the chance to show them what we came here to show them."

Von Arbin is chairman of the International Exhibitors Association which earlier this week asked fair President Robert Moses to drop the admission prices from $2.50 to $2 for adults during the daytime and to $1 in the evening.

Moses said no. He raised the price in the hope of helping to make up the fair's $17 million deficit of last year.

The fair admission price, which Moses raised from last season's $2, has been blamed in some quarters for a drop in attendance under last year when the fair fell 13 million short of its expected total attendance of 40 million.

"If the admissions were lowered, millions of residents of the area would be able to come three and four and five times to see the fair," Von Arbin said.

"Instead, if they come at all now, they come once and they have to run from one pavilion to the other to get into as many as they can in one day.

"So, you find people running through a foreign pavilion so fast that the people we brought here from our homelands can't even halt them long enough to explain the exhibit."

Surprise Fire Drills Are Held At Chester

During a surprise fire drill to test the school alarm system and building evacuation, the Junior High School building was emptied in 1 minute, 41 seconds, and the Primary School in 45 seconds, the Chester fire department has reported.

The first truck dispatched arrived on the scene in three minutes and the second in four minutes, the department added.

Jurors Absolve Woman Indicted In Robbery Case

A Common Pleas Court jury of seven women and five men deliberated an hour at Lisbon Thursday afternoon before returning a not guilty verdict for Mrs. Elsie P. Moore of Pennsylvania Ave., who had been indicted on a robbery charge.

Mrs. Moore was charged with robbing James Mellott of East Liverpool in a parking lot near a local tavern on Jan. 10. Her co-defendant, Clifford Eugene McDole, 1702 Alpha St., was found guilty by a jury Wednesday on the same offense.

It was the first not guilty verdict returned since J. Warren Bettis assumed the prosecutor's office in January. The jury was comprised of Lettie Sachs, Harriet Littell and William Merchant, all of East Liverpool; Catherine E. Frontz, Henry Taggart and Charles Pander, all of Wellsville; Laberta Smith, Edward Lee and Charles Gearin, all of Salineville; Ellen M. Brown of Hanoverton, Pauline Huston of Negley and Melba L. Nameth of Wellsville.

Machinists Strike In Contract Dispute

CLEVELAND (AP) — A contract dispute has resulted in a strike by 550 employes of Lear Siegler, Inc., power equipment division in suburban Maple Heights. The employes, represented by Local 54, International Association of Machinists, walked off their jobs Friday.

Union business agent Nick Charo said the IAM agreed to the company's request to set up an hourly wage basis instead of the incentive piece-work plan that has been in operation. But he said the company's wage offer of 26½ cents an hour in a new contract was not sufficient.

Operator Of Tavern Fined On Complaint

Zora Fuller, operator of the Ups and Downs Tavern on 5th St., Newell, paid a fine of $50 and costs Thursday night at a hearing before Squire Harry Lytton on a charge of "disturbing the peace and quietitude of the community."

Neighbors signed a complaint against her about 11:30 p.m., stating that a boisterous "dance and hootenanny" was being conducted at the tavern.

Constables Harold Davis of Chester and Arnie Durham of Newell made the arrest. Miss Fuller was taken to Lytton's court, where she plead guilty to the charge.

20th Anniversary Of Nazi Defeat

Reds Gather In Berlin For Big V-E Day Parade

BERLIN (AP) — Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin and other Communist leaders gathered in East Berlin today for a giant V-E Day parade as nations on both sides of the Iron Curtain celebrated the 20th anniversary of Nazi Germany's defeat.

Kosygin, who shared the spotlight with Premier Josef Cyrankiewicz of Poland and Deputy Premier Lu Ting-yi of Communist China, used the occasion Friday to blast the United States for its military activities in Viet Nam and in the Dominican Republic.

"They (the United States) want to make capital out of the difficulties which have arisen in the world Socialist (Communist) movement and it would be wrong to underestimate these devious plans," Kosygin said.

He apparently was referring to the ideological differences between the Soviet Union and Communist China. He rejected claims "of some people that only a new world war could retain the unity" of the international Communist movement.

He lashed the United States for "violating the most elementary rules of international law" by its actions in the Congo, for landing troops in the Dominican Republic and "for the barbaric bombing attacks on the Republic of (North) Viet Nam."

The Chinese deputy premier also assailed the United States and added a demand for a peace treaty with West Germany to officially end World War II and a solution to the Berlin problem.

East Germany's deputy premier, Willy Stoph, praised French President Charles de Gaulle, welcoming his proposals for a European settlement without participation of the United States.

In Washington, President Johnson, in an obvious reference to De Gaulle's proposals, assailed "the kind of nationalism which would . . . destroy the dream of European unity and Atlantic partnership."

He said those who gave their lives in World War II did not die in vain. The "shining achievement" over the past two decades includes the democratic revival of defeated nations, growing European unity and U.S.-European partnership, he added.

Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, commander in Chief of Allied forces in World War II, said in New York the Communist dominated states of Europe are "a sad monument to the victory we thought we had won 20 years ago."

In London, Prime Minister Harold Wilson said in an anniversary statement "the reunification of Germany in peace and freedom, through the principle of self-determination, remains the fundamental objective of British policy."

Erhard said the German people have renounced the use of force "but we are not ready to be patient to an injustice and to remain silent when brute force seeks to withhold from us the naturally and solemnly proclaimed right of self-determination."

The Bonn government regards itself as the only legal representative of all Germans, including those in East Germany.

Thousands of Parisians took part Friday night in the first of the public observances this weekend to mark the anniversary.

Norway will observe two minutes of silence at noon to commemorate its liberation from Nazi occupation.

Military parades and other observances will be held Sunday in Moscow and Prague.

Union, Hoffa Cleared As Defendants In Suit

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Teamsters Union and its president, James R. Hoffa, were removed Friday as defendants in a $2.9 million damage suit filed by Stillpass Transit Co. Inc., which charged a collective bargaining agreement was violated.

U. S. Dist. Court Judge John W. Peck ruled the suit was served improperly on Hoffa last December when he was here for arguments of his appeal of a jury-tampering conviction.

Current Civic Music Program To End

Scene From Monday Night's Opera

This is a scene from "La Boheme," which will be presented Monday night by the Turnau Opera Players in the final program of the current season of the Tri-State Civic Music Association.

The opera, a "bonus" offering for new members, will begin at 8:15 at the Westgate School auditorium.

Paul Blair, association president, said a table will be set up in the auditorium hall where memberships may be purchased in conjunction with the current campaign.

This is a return performance for the opera company. It presented "The Barber of Seville" last season.

The group is comprised of former students of the late Prof. Josef Turnau, who once was a leading stage director in Europe. His career in the United States was dedicated to the fostering of young operatic talent to the end that opera might become here, as in Europe, a widely enjoyed and practiced part of our way of life.

For the last six seasons, the company has been organized as a nonprofit educational institution and enjoys a tax-exempt status. It takes professional opera into smaller communities and furnishes experience for young singers and production personnel.

The opera "La Boheme" (The Bohemian) will be sung in English.

Reds Gather In Berlin For Big V-E Day Parade

BERLIN (AP) — Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin and other Communist leaders gathered in East Berlin today for a giant V-E Day parade as nations on both sides of the Iron Curtain celebrated the 20th anniversary of Nazi Germany's defeat.

Kosygin, who shared the spotlight with Premier Josef Cyrankiewicz of Poland and Deputy Premier Lu Ting-yi of Communist China, used the occasion Friday to blast the United States for its military activities in Viet Nam and in the Dominican Republic.

"They (the United States) want to make capital out of the difficulties which have arisen in the world Socialist (Communist) movement and it would be wrong to underestimate these devious plans," Kosygin said.

He apparently was referring to the ideological differences between the Soviet Union and Communist China. He rejected claims "of some people that only a new world war could retain the unity" of the international Communist movement.

He lashed the United States for "violating the most elementary rules of international law" by its actions in the Congo, for landing troops in the Dominican Republic and "for the barbaric bombing attacks on the Republic of (North) Viet Nam."

The Chinese deputy premier also assailed the United States and added a demand for a peace treaty with West Germany to officially end World War II and a solution to the Berlin problem.

East Germany's deputy premier, Willy Stoph, praised French President Charles de Gaulle, welcoming his proposals for a European settlement without participation of the United States.

In Washington, President Johnson, in an obvious reference to De Gaulle's proposals, assailed "the kind of nationalism which would . . . destroy the dream of European unity and Atlantic partnership."

He said those who gave their lives in World War II did not die in vain. The "shining achievement" over the past two decades includes the democratic revival of defeated nations, growing European unity and U.S.-European partnership, he added.

Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, commander in Chief of Allied forces in World War II, said in New York the Communist dominated states of Europe are "a sad monument to the victory we thought we had won 20 years ago."

In London, Prime Minister Harold Wilson said in an anniversary statement "the reunification of Germany in peace and freedom, through the principle of self-determination, remains the fundamental objective of British policy."

Erhard said the German people have renounced the use of force "but we are not ready to be patient to an injustice and to remain silent when brute force seeks to withhold from us the naturally and solemnly proclaimed right of self-determination."

The Bonn government regards itself as the only legal representative of all Germans, including those in East Germany.

Thousands of Parisians took part Friday night in the first of the public observances this weekend to mark the anniversary.

Norway will observe two minutes of silence at noon to commemorate its liberation from Nazi occupation.

Military parades and other observances will be held Sunday in Moscow and Prague.

Union, Hoffa Cleared As Defendants In Suit

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Teamsters Union and its president, James R. Hoffa, were removed Friday as defendants in a $2.9 million damage suit filed by Stillpass Transit Co. Inc., which charged a collective bargaining agreement was violated.

U. S. Dist. Court Judge John W. Peck ruled the suit was served improperly on Hoffa last December when he was here for arguments of his appeal of a jury-tampering conviction.

Cutting Attendance

International Exhibitors Rap World's Fair Prices

NEW YORK (AP) — International exhibitors at the New York World's Fair are having difficulty projecting their image, and they blame it on a boost in fair admission prices.

"How can a foreign exhibitor project an image when there is only a handful of people to project it to?" asked Col. Nils-Magnus von Arbin, commissioner general of the Swedish Pavilion.

"If the fair admission prices were lowered as we have asked," he said, "millions of more people would come to the fair and give us the chance to show them what we came here to show them."

Von Arbin is chairman of the International Exhibitors Association which earlier this week asked fair President Robert Moses to drop the admission prices from $2.50 to $2 for adults during the daytime and to $1 in the evening.

Moses said no. He raised the price in the hope of helping to make up the fair's $17 million deficit of last year.

The fair admission price, which Moses raised from last season's $2, has been blamed in some quarters for a drop in attendance under last year when the fair fell 13 million short of its expected total attendance of 40 million.

"If the admissions were lowered, millions of residents of the area would be able to come three and four and five times to see the fair," Von Arbin said.

"Instead, if they come at all now, they come once and they have to run from one pavilion to the other to get into as many as they can in one day.

"So, you find people running through a foreign pavilion so fast that the people we brought here from our homelands can't even halt them long enough to explain the exhibit."

Surprise Fire Drills Are Held At Chester

During a surprise fire drill to test the school alarm system and building evacuation, the Junior High School building was emptied in 1 minute, 41 seconds, and the Primary School in 45 seconds, the Chester fire department has reported.

The first truck dispatched arrived on the scene in three minutes and the second in four minutes, the department added.

Royals' Physician Dies

Jurors Absolve Woman Indicted In Robbery Case

A Common Pleas Court jury of seven women and five men deliberated an hour at Lisbon Thursday afternoon before returning a not guilty verdict for Mrs. Elsie P. Moore of Pennsylvania Ave., who had been indicted on a robbery charge.

Mrs. Moore was cnarged with robbing James Mellott of East Liverpool in a parking lot near a local tavern on Jan. 10. Her co-defendant, Clifford Eugene McDole, 1702 Alpha St., was found guilty by a jury Wednesday on the same offense.

It was the first not guilty verdict returned since J. Warren Bettis assumed the prosecutor's office in January. The jury was comprised of Lettie Sachs, Harriet Littell and William Merchant, all of East Liverpool; Catherine E. Frontz, Henry Taggart and Charles Pander, all of Wellsville; Laberta Smith, Edward Lee and Charles Gearin, all of Salineville; Ellen M. Brown of Hanoverton, Pauline Huston of Negley and Melba L. Nameth of Wellsville.

Machinists Strike In Contract Dispute

CLEVELAND (AP) — A contract dispute has resulted in a strike by 550 employes of Lear Siegler, Inc., power equipment division in suburban Maple Heights. The employes, represented by Local 54, International Association of Machinists, walked off their jobs Friday.

Union business agent Nick Charo said the IAM agreed to the company's request to set up an hourly wage basis instead of the incentive piece-work plan that has been in operation. But he said the company's wage offer of 26½ cents an hour in a new contract was not sufficient.

Operator Of Tavern Fined On Complaint

Zora Fuller, operator of the Ups and Downs Tavern on 5th St., Newell, paid a fine of $50 and costs Thursday night at a hearing before Squire Harry Lytton on a charge of "disturbing the peace and quietitude of the community."

Neighbors signed a complaint against her about 11:30 p.m., stating that a boisterous "dance and hootenanny" was being conducted at the tavern.

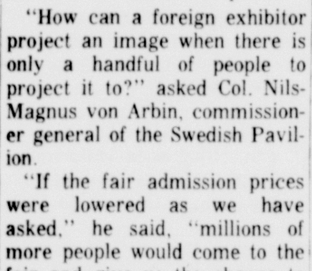

Constables Harold Davis of Chester and Arnie Durham of Newell made the arrest. Miss Fuller was taken to Lytton's court, where she plead guilty to the charge.

Miller Wins Council Race In Coin Toss

The toss of a coin Friday afternoon gave East Palestine's Republican nomination for Second Ward councilman to Richard D. Miller, who finished in a 79-vote "dead heat" with Halsey M. Allard in the primary election Tuesday.

The coin was flipped in the County Election Board's office on W. 6th St., following the method prescribed by state law when a ballot contest ends in a tie.

Carl L. Stacey of Columbiana, chairman of the board, tossed a 25-cent piece into the air and Miller, who had the option of making the call, shouted "Heads!" The coin came up heads and Miller, the incumbent, was entered officially as the nominee.

Both Miller and Allard appeared at the board's office after receiving notification that the tie would be broken "by lot," as the state law phrases.

Members of the board explained the procedure. Then came the tie - breaking coin toss.

There were two other candidates in the four - man race. John A. Davis polled 40 and Gary Doran was credited with 27.

After the decision, Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk of the board, explained that state law still allows Allard to petition for a recount, if he wishes. The petition for the new tabulation would have to filed by Wednesday — five days after completion of the official canvass, O'Hanlon explained.

Allard indicated he does not plan to seek a recount.

Racial Figure Eyes Cleveland Mayor Bid

CLEVELAND AP)—Ralph A. McAllister, a controversial figure in Cleveland's school racial disturbances last year, says he will run for mayor of Cleveland as an independent.

The Cleveland school board member announced his intentions Friday, becoming the second announced candidate for mayor. State Sen. Anthony O. Calabrese Sr. said earlier this week he would seek the Democratic nomination.

As an independent, McAllister may bypass the Sept. 28 party primary, which he indicated he will do.

PROM ROYALTY. Mary Ann Tolson and Ed Arsuffi reigned as king and queen at the Southern Local High School prom Friday night. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Jarvis of Salineville and he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Arsuffi of Salineville. More than 200 attended the event at the high school, followed by a post-prom fete at Youngstown.

Officers Are Installed At Teachers' Meeting

Proposals for teacher welfare and installation of officers highlighted the meeting of the East Liverpool Teachers Association Thursday afternoon at East Junior High School.

Committees dealing chiefly with public relations, contracts, salaries and administrative policies will be organized in the fall.

The association also approved the possible endorsement of candidates for the Board of Education and invitations to speakers from organizations such as the American Federation of Teachers, an AFL-CIO affiliate.

The ELTA is affiliated with the National Education Association. The two groups have clashed frequently in larger cities over the rights to represent teachers.

A brief meeting of the board was held following the session. The directors will meet May 18 at the office in Central School.

Sorority At Lisbon Installs; Three Clubs Hold Meetings

Mrs. Raymond Glausser was installed as president of Gamma Nu Chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha sorority during a meeting Thursday at the home of Mrs. Raymond Weaver of the East Liverpool Rd. Mrs. Frank Henry is retiring president.

Also installed were: Mrs. Weaver, vice president; Mrs. Vernon Duke, recording secretary; Mrs. Milan Garick, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Charles J. Yoos, educational director.

"Customs of Australia" was the program subject presented by Mrs. J. L. McBride. Mrs. Dail Mason reviewed "Famous Women of Australia" — Helen Porter Mitchell, Judith Anderson and sister Kinney.

Plans for the summer include attending a play at the Packard Playhouse in Warren.

The Bide-A-Wee Club donated $5 to the volunteer fire department ambulance fund at its meeting Thursday night at the home of Mrs. Donald Lewton of Pleasant Heights.

Mrs. Burrell Reeder received a prize.

Hostess for the next meeting May 20, the last of the summer, will be Mrs. Russell Peppel of E. Washington St.

Thirty-one members of Pride of Center Council 190, Daughters of America, attended the regular meeting Thursday night and approved a $25 donation to the volunteer fire department ambulance fund.

Miss Kathy Bush, councilor, presided when announcement was made of a public card party, sponsored by the Home and Orphans Committee, next Thursday at 8 o'clock at the lodge hall.

Prizes for cards and games were awarded Mrs. Anne Reuff, Mrs. Thelma Hill, Mrs. Olive Ogle and Miss Laura McKee.

The next meeting will be Thursday at 7:30.

The Wednesday Night Bridge Club was entertained at the home of Mrs. Ross Carnes of N. Beaver St.

High scores went to Mrs. Victor Williams and Mrs. Lodge Thorne.

Miss Gladys Loudon of W. Washington St. will entertain next Wednesday.

Killed In Collision

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Mrs. Edna Harris, 54, of St. Louis was killed Friday in a head-on collision of two cars on U.S. 40 near Columbus' western city limits.

Installation Set June 19 By Lions Club

June 19 has been set for the annual Installation Night dinner for new Lions Club officers, Edgar Shingler, chairman, reported at the meeting Friday afternoon at the hotel.

The dinner will be held at the hotel, with the program not yet completed, he said.

New officers, headed by Donald T. Duke president, will be inducted.

Robert F. Beatty, architect, screened slides on Niamey, capitol of the Republic of Niger, where he was selected to design a new U. S. embassy. The slides showed primarily the contrast between the new and the old with a few sketches of the proposed compound.

County Unit Sets Recommendation On Airport Sites

LISBON — The Transportation Committee of the Columbiana County Regional Planning Commission met Friday night in Village Hall to again consider suggested locations for a county airport.

E. L. Calvin of Columbiana, chairman, presided.

The group voted to recommend several sites to the Ohio Aviation Department for study. After visits by the state officials, the recommendations will be submitted to a county committee for further action.

More than 30 proposed locations have been considered by the county committee for the new airport.

Training Course Set By Fire Team Of CD

A training session will be conducted each Wednesday, weather permitting, Don Parsons, chief of the St. Clair Township Civil Defense fire team, has announced.

Township residents interested in participating are requested to contact Parsons. He may be reached at the Community Parking Lot week days from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Use of a portable pump and a new high-pressure nozzle were demonstrated during a practice session this week in the vicinity of the Yeager farm on Longs Run, with Parsons and Harry Reckner, assistant chief, as instructors.

It was announced that three members of the group had given assistance in a recent emergency in Salineville and also that the Civil Defense truck had been used at the Columbiana County fire school the previous two Sundays in Wellsville.

Youth Drowns Despite Efforts To Save Him

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—Three teen-agers went for a swim in a 7-foot-deep pond to cool off. One drowned, despite efforts of the other two to save him.

Victim of the Thursday night drowning behind a truck stop in North Jackson was Randy Phipps, 13, of Diamond, a Youngstown suburb. His companions, Robert Ewing and Ted Paulsey, both 13 and from North Jackson, said Randy fought them off and they had to let go to save themselves.

Auto Wreck Fatal

BUCYRUS, Ohio (AP)—A Wyandot County motorist was killed early today when his car ran off the right side of a Crawford County road and hit a bridge abutment. Victim of the crash seven miles southwest of here was Richard Max Kail, 23, of near Upper Sandusky. He was alone in the vehicle.

The flute and the piccolo are the only two woodwind musical instruments without a reed.

Treasury Secretary Warns On Payments Deficit Victory

HOT SPRINGS, Va. (AP) — Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler issued a stern warning today against "premature visions of victory in the fight against the payments deficit."

In a speech prepared for the Business Council, whose industrialist - members control a multibillion-dollar share of U.S. foreign trade, Fowler verified payment surpluses apparently were achieved in March and April.

"I am disturbed, however, by the undue note of elation over these results that I detect in some quarters," he told the 100 corporation heads.

"Let there be no mistake: these figures are no more than preliminary indications of a brief respite from the intense pressures created by a prolonged deficit — some seven successive years of serious deficits in our balance of payments."

The voluntary curbs on foreign investment and lending asked of industry by President Johnson are bringing good results, the secretary said.

But he cautioned: "I want to emphasize with all the vigor I can muster the danger of early or excessive optimism. Early optimism could lead to premature relaxation.

"We can allow no let-up. Indeed we must continue to redouble all our efforts until we have restored our international payments to balance once again, and until we have maintained that balance not for one or two quarters, but for a sufficient time to demonstrate our strength and determination, and to allow a more permanent solution to take hold."

Fowler said that the projected gain of $1.2 billion from industry's voluntary plans to curb foreign payments and enlarge exports does not take into account such trends as may develop in tourist outlays, imports or military spending.

"The $1.2 billion therefore cannot validly be deducted from last year's deficit of $3.1 billion as a means of projecting this year's deficit," he said.

The Cabinet officer also renewed his plea for restraint in any excise tax reduction. Johnson's plan to trim the sales taxes $1.75 billion is a prudent one, Fowler said, "designed to furnish the economic stimulus we need without seriously impending our progress toward balance in our budget."

Grand Jury Due Case Of Suffocated Child

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — The grand jury will get the case of a newborn child suffocated when ambulance drivers, apparently believing it dead, put it into a plastic bag, according to Prosecutor James V. Barbuto.

Coroner Dr. A. H. Kyriakides ruled homicide Friday in the April 13 death.

The child was born at a private home to Mrs. Gina Gardner, a divorcee. It was alive when it reached the hospital, despite having been placed in the plastic bag, Dr. Kyriakides reported, but died 20 minutes later.

The baby was delivered by Mrs. Gardner's mother, who then called an ambulance to get the infant to St. Thomas Hospital.

Body Recovered

CINCINNATI (AP)—The body of John O. Clarke, 45, who fell into the Ohio River and drowned April 29, was recovered Friday. He was harbormaster of Queen City Marine Corp. and was repairing a pier when he fell into the water.

Galvanizing Industry Honors Weirton Aide

The Galvanizers Committee of the American Zinc Institute, Inc., has been John T. Mayhew of the Weirton Steel Co. division of the National Steel Corp. as the recipient of its 1965 award for significant achievements in the galvanizing industry.

Mayhew, manager of the Weirton Steel Galvanizing Department, was presented an engraved bronze plaque during the 51st meeting of the Galvanizers Committee at the Drake Hotel in Chicago.

3 Killed, 1 Hurt In 2-Car Crash Near Columbus

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Three persons were killed and one was critically injured in a traffic crash in suburban Whitehall that left one car upside down and the other, in the words of one officer, looking "Like an accordion."

One car was eastbound and the other headed west when they collided, police said. Reuter and Peterson were in one auto and the Gilgers in the other.

Police said Reuter, westbound at high speed after a trip to Buckeye Lake, evidently braked too suddenly, lost control and his car swerved into the opposite lane. Gilger crashed broadside into the errant auto.

Cites Earth Tremors

ASHTABULA, Ohio (AP)—Reported mild earth tremors in the eastern section of the city are causing some consternation — enough to cause City Manager David P. DeLuca to say he may propose a study of them. DeLuca speculated that the tremors are being caused artificially, but declined to elaborate.

Cincinnati Taxicab Drivers End Strike

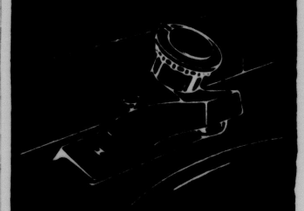

CINCINNTAI (AP) — Drivers of Yellow and Parkway cabs ended their two-week-old strike Friday night against Taxicabs of Cincinnati Inc. The 425 drivers start returning to work Sunday.

Harry Baldock, president of Teamsters Local 954, said the drivers voted to accept the offer when the company said it would delete a proposal that drivers would be charged a half-cent a mile for all miles, not just those miles when they had passengers.

Miller Wins Council Race In Coin Toss

The toss of a coin Friday afternoon gave East Palestine's Republican nomination for Second Ward councilman to Richard D. Miller, who finished in a 79-vote "dead heat" with Halsey M. Allard in the primary election Tuesday.

The coin was flipped in the County Election Board's office on W. 6th St., following the method prescribed by state law when a ballot contest ends in a tie.

Carl L. Stacey of Columbiana, chairman of the board, tossed a 25-cent piece into the air and Miller, who had the option of making the call, shouted "Heads!" The coin came up heads and Miller, the incumbent, was entered officially as the nominee.

Both Miller and Allard appeared at the board's office after receiving notification that the tie would be broken "by lot," as the state law phrases.

Members of the board explained the procedure. Then came the tie - breaking coin toss.

There were two other candidates in the four - man race. John A. Davis polled 40 and Gary Doran was credited with 27.

After the decision, Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk of the board, explained that state law still allows Allard to petition for a recount, if he wishes. The petition for the new tabulation would have to filed by Wednesday — five days after completion of the official canvass, O'Hanlon explained.

Allard indicated he does not plan to seek a recount.

Racial Figure Eyes Cleveland Mayor Bid

CLEVELAND AP)—Ralph A. McAllister, a controversial figure in Cleveland's school racial disturbances last year, says he will run for mayor of Cleveland as an independent.

The Cleveland school board member announced his intentions Friday, becoming the second announced candidate for mayor. State Sen. Anthony O. Calabrese Sr. said earlier this week he would seek the Democratic nomination.

As an independent, McAllister may bypass the Sept. 28 party primary, which he indicated he will do.

PROM ROYALTY. Mary Ann Tolson and Ed Arsuffi reigned as king and queen at the Southern Local High School prom Friday night. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Jarvis of Salineville and he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Arsuffi of Salineville. More than 200 attended the event at the high school, followed by a post-prom fete at Youngstown.

Officers Are Installed At Teachers' Meeting

Proposals for teacher welfare and installation of officers highlighted the meeting of the East Liverpool Teachers Association Thursday afternoon at East Junior High School.

Committees dealing chiefly with public relations, contracts, salaries and administrative policies will be organized in the fall.

The association also approved the possible endorsement of candidates for the Board of Education and invitations to speakers from organizations such as the American Federation of Teachers, an AFL-CIO affiliate.

The ELTA is affiliated with the National Education Association. The two groups have clashed frequently in larger cities over the rights to represent teachers.

A brief meeting of the board was held following the session. The directors will meet May 18 at the office in Central School.

Sorority At Lisbon Installs; Three Clubs Hold Meetings

Mrs. Raymond Glausser was installed as president of Gamma Nu Chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha sorority during a meeting Thursday at the home of Mrs. Raymond Weaver of the East Liverpool Rd. Mrs. Frank Henry is retiring president.

Also installed were: Mrs. Weaver, vice president; Mrs. Vernon Duke, recording secretary; Mrs. Milan Garick, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Charles J. Yoos, educational director.

"Customs of Australia" was the program subject presented by Mrs. J. L. McBride. Mrs. Dail Mason reviewed "Famous Women of Australia" — Helen Porter Mitchell, Judith Anderson and sister Kinney.

Plans for the summer include attending a play at the Packard Playhouse in Warren.

The Bide-A-Wee Club donated $5 to the volunteer fire department ambulance fund at its meeting Thursday night at the home of Mrs. Donald Lewton of Pleasant Heights.

Mrs. Burrell Reeder received a prize.

Hostess for the next meeting May 20, the last of the summer, will be Mrs. Russell Peppel of E. Washington St.

Thirty-one members of Pride of Center Council 190, Daughters of America, attended the regular meeting Thursday night and approved a $25 donation to the volunteer fire department ambulance fund.

Miss Kathy Bush, councilor, presided when announcement was made of a public card party, sponsored by the Home and Orphans Committee, next Thursday at 8 o'clock at the lodge hall.

Prizes for cards and games were awarded Mrs. Anne Reuff, Mrs. Thelma Hill, Mrs. Olive Ogle and Miss Laura McKee.

The next meeting will be Thursday at 7:30.

The Wednesday Night Bridge Club was entertained at the home of Mrs. Ross Carnes of N. Beaver St.

Miss Gladys Loudon of W. Washington St. will entertain next Wednesday.

Installation Set June 19 By Lions Club

June 19 has been set for the annual Installation Night dinner for new Lions Club officers, Edgar Shingler, chairman, reported at the meeting Friday afternoon at the hotel.

The dinner will be held at the hotel, with the program not yet completed, he said.

New officers, headed by Donald T. Duke president, will be inducted.

Robert F. Beatty, architect, screened slides on Niamey, capitol of the Republic of Niger, where he was selected to design a new U. S. embassy. The slides showed primarily the contrast between the new and the old with a few sketches of the proposed compound.

County Unit Sets Recommendation On Airport Sites

LISBON — The Transportation Committee of the Columbiana County Regional Planning Commission met Friday night in Village Hall to again consider suggested locations for a county airport.

E. L. Calvin of Columbiana, chairman, presided.

The group voted to recommend several sites to the Ohio Aviation Department for study. After visits by the state officials, the recommendations will be submitted to a county committee for further action.

Pilgrim Cracks County Mile Mark; E. Palestine Wins Title

By BOB DUFFY
Review Sports Editor

Posts 4:31.6; Thornton Wins 100

East Liverpool's Jon Pilgrim cracked a 34-year-old record in the mile run, an event he won by two city blocks, in the 62nd annual Columbiana County track meet Friday night at Salem's Reilly Stadium.

While Pilgrim came home with one of three records set Friday, East Palestine walked off with the team title by scoring 69 points. Salem finished second with 62½. The other seven teams in the nine-team field were far behind.

COLUMBIANA, which had won the title the past two years when Jim Ward was smashing records, finished third with 32. Other scores were Wellsville 23½, East Liverpool 17, Beaver pool 17, Beaver Local 11, United 7, Leetonia 2 and Crestview failed to score.

Pilgrim set the first record of the evening when he posted an outstanding 4:31.6 over the mile distance. This eclipsed by four-tenths of a second the record set in 1931 by Kenny Wagonhauser of Leetonia.

THE MILE record was the oldest running event in the County books while the pole vault mark set in 1928 remains the oldest record for the meet.

Pilgrim was all alone at the end as he stepped out in front with the starting gun and was never headed. He was on his own as he set his own record-breaking pace for the four laps.

ANOTHER record fell in the half-mile when Bill Fullerton of East Palestine covered the distance in 2:00.3 to better the mark of East Liverpool's Curt Battistelli who set the record a year ago in 2:01.9.

Fullerton's teammate White, who finished second, also battered the mark as he was clocked in 2:01.3.

The third record came in the mile relay when Salem's quartet measured the distance in 3:36.5, breaking the old mark of 3:36.7. The team included Gary Evans, Dave Coy, Tom Hutson and Tim Hutson.

EAST Palestine was paced to the title by Gary Switzer who won three events and finished as the meet's high point man and most valuable participant.

Switzer won both hurdle events, covering the 120 highs in 15.2 while running the lows in 21.3. His other victory came in the high jump when he cleared the bar at five feet, eight inches.

Chris Thornton gave Wellsville a first place for the first time in several years when he captured the 100-yard dash in 10.4, just nipping Salem's Tim Hutson. Thornton also ran second to Hutson in the 220. The winning time in that event was 22.4.

The 880-yard relay also went to the Quakers who nipped Wellsville in 1:36.8.

In the field events, Herb Bortner of Columbiana took the shot put with a measurement of 48 feet, 5½ inches. Larry Roberts of Beaver Local, who had been putting the shot over 50 feet previously and was only eight inches off the County record, finished third.

THE BROAD jump went to Jim Windram of Salem at 19 feet, 8 inches while Jack Hawkins of Columbiana won the discus, covering 136 feet, 7¾ inches, and Terry Thompson of East Palestine cleared the pole vault bar at 11 feet.

Other scoring for the Potters came when Bob Woods finished fifth in the shot put while Dick Lamborn won the fourth place spot in the broad jump. Bob Lane ran to a fourth place in the low hurdles and the Potters' relay team took fifth while the 880 relay quartet placed fourth.

MILE RUN — Pilgrim (EL), Fullerton (EP), White (EP), Reed (W) and Hippley (S). Time — 4:31.6 (new meet record)

880-YD. RUN — Fullerton (EP), White (EP), Pilgrim (EL), Briceland (U), Reed (W). Time — 2:00.3. (new meet record)

Mays Hits 2, But LA Wins

Gibson, Giusti Post 5th; Bucs Nose Out Reds

Willie Mays. Willie Mays.

Yes, that guy has National League pitchers seeing double again.

Mays, who gets $105,000 a year to parade his talents for the San Francisco Giants, put on another one-man show Friday night by hammering two solo homers in a 4-3 loss to the Los Angeles Dodgers.

Meanwhile, Bob Gibson of the St. Louis Cardinals, another quick starter, pitched a one-hitter in a 2-0 victory over Philadelphia allowing only a fourth inning single by Johnny Callison as he posted his fifth victory without a loss and his third shutout.

Houston's Dave Giusti also brought his record to 5-0 by grabbing the victory in the Astros' 5-4 triumph over the Chicago Cubs. In the only other game played, Pittsburgh edged Cincinnati 5-4 on Manny Mota's decisive single.

Mays is hitting .356, but in the home run department he's exactly where he was on May 8 last year.

The Giants could have used another big bat against the Dodgers with Mays' homers off Claude Osteen in the second and fourth innings providing a 2-0 lead that Jack Sanford was unable to hold.

The Dodgers eventually cracked a 3-3 tie in the eighth inning on John Roseboro's third hit, a sacrifice, and Dick Tracewski's single. That made Osteen the winner with a six-hitter.

Gibson was locked in a scoreless duel with Chris Short, now 4-2, until the seventh when two Philadelphia errors proved his undoing.

Julian Javier beat out a hit to get things started for the Cardinals, raced to third on Cookie Rojas' wild throw and scored on Lou Brock's single. Curt Flood then grounded out but Dick Stuart tried to nail Brock going to third, threw wild, and Brock scored.

The Cubs got started quickly against Guisti and the Astros with Ernie Banks hitting a three-run homer in the first. But Houston took over after that.

Guisti drove home two runs with a double in the second and the Astros wrapped it up with Bob Aspromonte's three - run homer in the fifth.

Trailing 4-2 in the ninth, the Pirates jammed through three runs to beat the Reds. Mota's two-out single drove in the clincher after pinch hitter Gene Freese slapped a run-producing single and Roberto Clemente knocked in the second run with a sacrifice fly.

The New York Yankees, resembling anything but a team that is seeking an unprecedented sixth straight pennant, tumbled to ninth place Friday night, dropping a doubleheader to Washington 4-3 and 7-3.

Startling is the Yankees' team average of .213. That's 10 points better than the Senators' mark but only one point above the worst batting mark ever recorded in major league history. The Chicago White Sox dipped that low in 1910.

Elsewhere in the AL Friday night, Chicago trounced Minnesota 13-5, Cleveland defeated Boston 5-1 and Los Angeles edged Kansas City 5-4 before losing 6-3. Rain washed out Detroit at Baltimore.

Jim King won his third game in a week as a pinch hitter for the Senators, cracking a two-run homer in the seventh inning. That wiped out a 3-2 lead Clete Boyer gave the Yankees with a homer in the fifth. Ronnie Kline, in relief of Mike McCormick, set down a New York threat in the ninth.

The Yankees led the nightcap 3-2 until the seventh when Washington exploded for five runs. Frank Howard drove in the first three with a bases-loaded triple off Pedro Ramos and scored on Woodie Held's homer.

Danny Cater's three-run homer in the seventh inning was the deciding blow in Chicago's fifth straight victory. The blow erased a 5-4 Minnesota lead. Ron Hansen, Al Weis and Pete Ward also homered for the White Sox while Harmon Killebrew connected for the Twins, who contributed seven errors to Chicago's attack.

Luis Tiant pitched a five-hitter as Cleveland handed the Red Sox their fourth straight defeat. Tiant lost his shutout in the eighth on doubles by Lennie Green and Dalton Jones. Leon Wagner singled in a Cleveland run in a three-run third and homered in the eighth.

The Angels extended their winning streak to five before losing the second game. Reliever Bob Lee came on in the seventh inning and saved Dean Chance's third victory. Willie Smith drove in three Los Angeles runs.

Fred Talbot stopped the Angels in the nightcap with John Wyatt's relief help and belted a three-run triple in the fourth inning. Jim Gentile added two solo homers for Kansas City. Paul Schaal connected for Los Angeles.

Liverpool's Grid Coach Elected To Ohio Board

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—New officers of the Ohio High School Football Coaches' Association were elected during a banquet Friday night which also saw 21 members enshrined in the National Football Foundation Hall of Fame.

Elected president was Red Garrettson of Hamilton Taft. Other officers are Tom Phillips, Barberton, first vice president; Al Christopher, New Philadelphia, second vice president, and Carl Schroeder, Massillon, secretary-treasurer.

Elected to the board of directors were Mal Mackey, Fremont; Bob Seaman, Sandusky; Tom Boldt, Randolph; Bob McNea, East Liverpool; Bill Steward, Springfield North; Tom Ballaban, Cincinnati St. Xavier, and D. L. DeCenzo, Westerville.

Those enshrined in the Hall of Fame at New Brunswick, N. J., were: 1935, Harry Rice, Toledo DeVilbiss; 1936, Paul Brown, Massillon, accepted by his son, Pete; 1938, Angus King, Cincinnati; 1939, Ike Trubey, Elyria; 1940-41, Jim Robinson, Canton Lehman; 1944-45, Jack Mollenkopf, Toledo Waite; 1946, Heinie Beck, Warren; 1947, Herold Roettger, Lockland; 1949, Gilbert Smith, Van Wert; 1952, Mack Pemberton, Columbus West; 1953, Charles Mather, Massillon; 1954, George Vlerebome, Zanesville; 1956, William Kidd, New Philadelphia; 1957, Mel Knowlton, Alliance; 1958, June Ferrall, Barberton; 1961, Bron Bacevich, Cincinnati Roger Bacon; 1963, Bill Wilkins, Shelby; Carl Schroeder, Massillon; Charles "Punque" Cartledge, Steubenville.

Prize money for the 13th Women's Open golf championship of the USGA will be about $20,000 this year. It will be played July 1-4 at Atlantic City Country Club, Northfield, N. J.

Pilgrim Cracks County Mile Mark; E. Palestine Wins Title

THE POTTERS' received a record breaking performance from Jon Pilgram who is shown crossing the finish line in 4:31.6 to establish a new record in the mile run Friday night at Salem in the Columbiana County track meet.

East Liverpool's Jon Pilgrim cracked a 34-year-old record in the mile run, an event he won by two city blocks, in the 62nd annual Columbiana County track meet Friday night at Salem's Reilly Stadium.

While Pilgrim came home with one of three records set Friday, East Palestine walked off with the team title by scoring 69 points. Salem finished second with 62½. The other seven teams in the nine-team field were far behind.

COLUMBIANA, which had won the title the past two years when Jim Ward was smashing records, finished third with 32. Other scores were Wellsville 23½, East Liverpool 17, Beaver pool 17, Beaver Local 11, United 7, Leetonia 2 and Crestview failed to score.

Pilgrim set the first record of the evening when he posted an outstanding 4:31.6 over the mile distance. This eclipsed by four-tenths of a second the record set in 1931 by Kenny Wagonhauser of Leetonia.

THE MILE record was the oldest running event in the County books while the pole vault mark set in 1928 remains the oldest record for the meet.

Pilgrim was all alone at the end as he stepped out in front with the starting gun and was never headed. He was on his own as he set his own record-breaking pace for the four laps.

East Liverpool's distance star scored nine of his team's 17 points as he came back later to pace third in the half-mile run.

ANOTHER record fell in the half-mile when Bill Fullerton of East Palestine covered the distance in 2:00.3 to better the mark of East Liverpool's Curt Battistelli who set the record a year ago in 2:01.9.

Fullerton's teammate White, who finished second, also battered the mark as he was clocked in 2:01.3.

The third record came in the mile relay when Salem's quartet measured the distance in 3:36.5, breaking the old mark of 3:36.7. The team included Gary Evans, Dave Coy, Tom Hutson and Tim Hutson.

EAST Palestine was paced to the title by Gary Switzer who won three events and finished as the meet's high point man and most valuable participant.

Switzer won both hurdle events, covering the 120 highs in 15.2 while running the lows in 21.3. His other victory came in the high jump when he cleared the bar at five feet, eight inches.

Chris Thornton gave Wellsville a first place for the first time in several years when he captured the 100-yard dash in 10.4, just nipping Salem's Tim Hutson. Thornton also ran second to Hutson in the 220. The winning time in that event was 22.4.

The 880-yard relay also went to the Quakers who nipped Wellsville in 1:36.8.

In the field events, Herb Bortner of Columbiana took the shot put with a measurement of 48 feet, 5½ inches. Larry Roberts of Beaver Local, who had been putting the shot over 50 feet previously and was only eight inches off the County record, finished third.

THE BROAD jump went to Jim Windram of Salem at 19 feet, 8 inches while Jack Hawkins of Columbiana won the discus, covering 136 feet, 7¾ inches, and Terry Thompson of East Palestine cleared the pole vault bar at 11 feet.

Other scoring for the Potters came when Bob Woods finished fifth in the shot put while Dick Lamborn won the fourth place spot in the broad jump. Bob Lane ran to a fourth place in the low hurdles and the Potters' relay team took fifth while the 880 relay quartet placed fourth.

Clay-Liston Fight Shifted

LEWISTON, Maine (AP) — The storm-tossed Cassius Clay-Sonny Liston heavyweight title fight — banned in Boston and committed to a May 25 date — has found refuge in this Maine textile center.

With about $4.5 million in ancillary rights at stake and time running out, backers of the rematch ended a court battle Friday by pulling it out of Boston. They needed a stage quickly, whatever the size, to rescue their closed circuit television committments around the country.

Gov. John H. Reed of Maine stepped forward and within a few hours the site was shifted to this community of about 41,000.

Suffolk County Dist. Atty. Garrett Byrne had sought an injunction blocking the fight in Boston, charging Inter-Continental Promotions Inc. of Chester, Pa. was promoting the fight without a Massachusetts license.

Inter-Continental said the promoter was local veteran Sam Silverman.

The litigation was in its third day before Judge Felix Forte Friday when attorney Paul T. Smith, appearing for Inter-Continental, announced to the court that "This case now has become moot because the fight is not going to be held in Boston."

Asst. Dist. Atty. Jack Zalkind indicated the fight still could be staged in Boston "under auspices other than Inter-Continental."

The Maine Boxing Commissions rules permit an outside promoter to hold fights in Maine after obtaining a permit and making an agreement with a Maine-licensed promoter, in this case Sam Michael of Lewiston.

Silverman also is licensed to promote boxing in Maine.

2 Share Lead In Colonial

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — The Colonial National Invitational Golf Tournament moved into the third round today with two foreigners — Bruce Crampton of Australia and George Knudson of Canada — leading the pack with one-under-par totals of 139.

Bo Wininger, Jay Hebert and Gardner Dickinson were tied at 141, with Dave Marr, Bert Weaver, Doug Sanders, Jerry Edwards and Miller Barber next with 142s.

Hogan proved Friday what he told newsmen Thursday — he was putting better than he had in years. The five-time Colonial winner sank putts up to 20 feet and had only one three-putt green.

Tommy Bolt blew to a 78, which included a two-stroke penalty for delaying too long over a putt that stopped on the edge of the hole.

I Never Prayed So Hard, Survivor Of Twister Says

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—"When the twister hit, I just lay there in that ditch and prayed. I never prayed so hard in my life."

Richard A. Tyson's prayers were answered. His wife and young son were not among the 13 numbered dead today from tornadoes that tore through Minneapolis suburbs—nor even among the 400 injured.

But Tyson's trailer at Fridley Terrace was one of 280 mobile homes and more than 200 other residences destroyed when perhaps six twisters ripped into the earth at 24 separate locations to the southwest, west and north of the city during Thursday's supper hour.

"I saw my trailer and three others picked up by the twister. I saw the roof of a house fly past and hit a transformer on a telephone pole. It was just like the Fourth of July."

Another 4-year-old, Lori Ann Abraham, died hours after her mother succumbed during the storm. The child's month-old sister is missing and presumed dead.

The damage, estimated by insurance spokesmen at upwards of $10 million, prompted President Johnson to extend wind disaster status—and the hope of federal aid for reconstruction—to the region.

Picking up the splintered wood and shattered dreams was a heart-breaking business for many.

"I'm kind of glad grandma isn't here to see all this," said Jennie Boll, surveying pulverized homes at Island Park along Lake Minnetonka. Her mother — grandma — Mrs. John Iverson, 80, survived the storm, but died of a heart attack immediately afterward.

A neighbor, Roger Latterle, emerged from his torn home with muddy shoes. "My family's all right, and I say to hell with everything else," he said.

The state insurance department established three information centers and companies sent 40 claims agents into hard-hit Fridley alone.

French Figure Killed

BAR LE DUC, France (AP) — Gen. Roger Leguay, commander of the French 7th Armored Division, was killed in a helicopter crash near Bar le Duc Friday. At one time he was assistant French military attache in Washington.

Arson Blamed In Fire At Steubenville Office

STEUBENVILLE — Arson has been blamed for a fire Friday which destroyed all the records of the Jefferson County Child Welfare Department.

Oscar Burchfield, department secretary, termed the incident "spite work," but did not elaborate. Fire Chief Ralph Lonetta said there was no doubt that an arsonist ignited papers piled around a desk in offices of the department.

Clay-Liston Fight Shifted

LEWISTON, Maine (AP) — The storm-tossed Cassius Clay-Sonny Liston heavyweight title fight — banned in Boston and committed to a May 25 date — has found refuge in this Maine textile center.

With about $4.5 million in ancillary rights at stake and time running out, backers of the rematch ended a court battle Friday by pulling it out of Boston. They needed a stage quickly, whatever the size, to rescue their closed circuit television committments around the country.

Gov. John H. Reed of Maine stepped forward and within a few hours the site was shifted to this community of about 41,000.

The locale is now the Lewiston Youth Center, which seats 5,000 instead of Boston Garden with a 13,909 seating capacity.

Suffolk County Dist. Atty. Garrett Byrne had sought an injunction blocking the fight in Boston, charging Inter-Continental Promotions Inc. of Chester, Pa. was promoting the fight without a Massachusetts license.

Inter-Continental said the promoter was local veteran Sam Silverman.

The litigation was in its third day before Judge Felix Forte Friday when attorney Paul T. Smith, appearing for Inter-Continental, announced to the court that "This case now has become moot because the fight is not going to be held in Boston."

Asst. Dist. Atty. Jack Zalkind indicated the fight still could be staged in Boston "under auspices other than Inter-Continental."

The Maine Boxing Commissions rules permit an outside promoter to hold fights in Maine after obtaining a permit and making an agreement with a Maine-licensed promoter, in this case Sam Michael of Lewiston.

Silverman also is licensed to promote boxing in Maine.

2 Share Lead In Colonial

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — The Colonial National Invitational Golf Tournament moved into the third round today with two foreigners — Bruce Crampton of Australia and George Knudson of Canada — leading the pack with one-under-par totals of 139.

Arnold Palmer apparently faded out of contention by shooting a 74 and dropping eight strokes behind the leaders at 147.

Bo Wininger, Jay Hebert and Gardner Dickinson were tied at 141, with Dave Marr, Bert Weaver, Doug Sanders, Jerry Edwards and Miller Barber next with 142s.

Crampton's two-under-par 68 over the tough Colonial layout Friday moved him to the front after Knudson faltered from his first round pace and shot a one-over-par 71.

Hogan proved Friday what he told newsmen Thursday — he was putting better than he had in years. The five-time Colonial winner sank putts up to 20 feet and had only one three-putt green.

Tommy Bolt blew to a 78, which included a two-stroke penalty for delaying too long over a putt that stopped on the edge of the hole.

I Never Prayed So Hard, Survivor Of Twister Says

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—"When the twister hit, I just lay there in that ditch and prayed. I never prayed so hard in my life."

Richard A. Tyson's prayers were answered. His wife and young son were not among the 13 numbered dead today from tornadoes that tore through Minneapolis suburbs—nor even among the 400 injured.

But Tyson's trailer at Fridley Terrace was one of 280 mobile homes and more than 200 other residences destroyed when perhaps six twisters ripped into the earth at 24 separate locations to the southwest, west and north of the city during Thursday's supper hour.

"I saw my trailer and three others picked up by the twister. I saw the roof of a house fly past and hit a transformer on a telephone pole. It was just like the Fourth of July."

Homeowners and rescue workers continued to dig through mountains of wreckage today, fearful that they might uncover new tragedy. One dead child, Gregory Magsam, 4, was found in the cellar of his wrecked home at Mounds View Friday.

Another 4-year-old, Lori Ann Abraham, died hours after her mother succumbed during the storm. The child's month-old sister is missing and presumed dead.

The damage, estimated by insurance spokesmen at upwards of $10 million, prompted President Johnson to extend wind disaster status—and the hope of federal aid for reconstruction—to the region.

Picking up the splintered wood and shattered dreams was a heart-breaking business for many.

"I'm kind of glad grandma isn't here to see all this," said Jennie Boll, surveying pulverized homes at Island Park along Lake Minnetonka. Her mother — grandma — Mrs. John Iverson, 80, survived the storm, but died of a heart attack immediately afterward.

A neighbor, Roger Latterle, emerged from his torn home with muddy shoes. "My family's all right, and I say to hell with everything else," he said.

The state insurance department established three information centers and companies sent 40 claims agents into hard-hit Fridley alone.

Arson Blamed In Fire At Steubenville Office

STEUBENVILLE — Arson has been blamed for a fire Friday which destroyed all the records of the Jefferson County Child Welfare Department.

Oscar Burchfield, department secretary, termed the incident "spite work," but did not elaborate. Fire Chief Ralph Lonetta said there was no doubt that an arsonist ignited papers piled around a desk in offices of the department.

LEGAL NOTICES

NOTICE FOR BIDS

Sealed bids will be received by the Director of Public Service Safety of the City of East Liverpool, Ohio, at the office of said Director until twelve o'clock Noon, E.D.S.T. May 24, 1965 for furnishing the necessary labor for the demolition of the city-owned building at the corner of East Second Street and Union Street, East Liverpool, Ohio, according to details on file in said office.

Each bid must contain the full names of every person or company interested in the same and must be accompanied by a bond in the sum of 10% of the amount of the bid to the satisfaction of the director or a certified check on some solvent bank as a guaranty that if the bid is accepted, a contract will be entered into and its performance properly secured. Should any bid be rejected such will be forthwith returned to the bidder, and should any be accepted such check will be returned upon the proper execution and securing of the contract.

Envelopes containing bids should be marked on outside with the words "Demolition Bid." The right is reserved to reject any or all bids.

LEGAL NOTICE

The heirs, devisees, legatees, administrators, executors and assigns of John Hardwick, Sr., deceased, John H. Hardwick, Jr., deceased, Nina E. Taber, deceased, Louis Napoleon Hardwick, deceased, Edith Sarah Hardwick Herman, deceased, Anna Florence Hardwick Swan, deceased, David Albert Swan, deceased, and Sterling Pilgrim Swan, deceased, whose names and places of residence are unknown and cannot be ascertained, will take notice that on the 7th day of April, 1965, the plaintiffs, Homer E. Herman, Mildred Irene Winland, Edith Marie McCahan and Louis Swan, filed their petition against them in the Court of Common Pleas of Columbiana County, Ohio, the same being Case No. 50136 in said Court, for the quieting of title of certain real estate in said petition described, to-wit:

Situated in the City of East Liverpool, County of Columbiana, State of Ohio, and known as and being Lot number Two Thousand Seven Hundred Forty-seven (2747) in the Assessor's Addition to said City. Said premises are more fully described by commencing at the intersection of the southwest corner of Linden Lane with the east line of Dresden Avenue, formerly known as West Market Street; thence easterly along the south line of Linden Lane a distance of Two Hundred Sixty (260) feet, more or less, but to the west line of Green Alley; thence southerly along the west line of Green Alley One Hundred Twenty-two (122) feet, more or less, but to the north line of a tract of land heretofore conveyed by Faulk Bros. Co. to Basil Mangano; thence westerly along the north line of said Mangano tract a distance of Two Hundred Thirty and Twenty - five Hundredths (230.25) feet, more or less, but to the east line of Dresden Avenue; thence northerly along the east line of Dresden Avenue a distance of One Hundred Twenty - four and Two Tenths (124.2) feet but to the place of beginning, containing .689 of an acre be the same more or less.

The prayer of said petition is for the quieting of the title of said real estate in the plaintiffs and other equitable relief. Said defendants will be required to answer said petition and set up the nature and extent of their respective claim or claims in, to and against said premises or be forever barred on or before the 24th day of May, 1965, or judgment will be taken against them.

AUTOMOBILES

VOLKSWAGEN
1965 used, has 4276 miles, just like new and still carries unused new car warranty. Drive a Volkswagen and save $ $ $, in every way every day. For instance no antifreeze, it's air cooled at 30° below zero. After your Volkswagen has been standing out all night it starts immediately. Can't boil (no water) air cooled. Gas station attendants would be lonely people if every one owned a Volkswagen for they will run up to 400 miles on a tank full of gas or up to 42 miles per gallon on regular and use no oil between changes. Holds only 5 3/10 pints of the best oil, no throw away filter at $3.25 just thoroughly cleaned and replaced. Up to 100,000 miles on tires if properly inflated and rotated. Low, low upkeep, no water pump, no universal joints, drive shaft, etc. or ½ the parts of the V-8 such as 4 cylinder 4 stroke rear engine, only 4 spark plugs, oilless generator, oil bath air cleaner, no throw away, only clean and replace. Why don't you take advantage of a car with little or no obsolescence, just constant improvements, 1965 Volkswagen has a heater, radio, turn signals, dual padded sun visors, hand grip windshield washer, increased vision all around by 15%, new wiper system, bigger brake cylinder means less pressure on pedal, steering system is sealed. Requires no lubrication, new heater controls and bigger heater, warms up quicker when engine is cold. Sun visor can be pivoted from side to side, back seat passenger has more leg room, also back seat folds down to give you 17.7 cubic foot luggage compartment big enough for a couple of trunks. QUICK, convenient, economical — that describes Review Want Ads.

VOLKSWAGEN
1965 used, has 4276 miles, just like new and still carries unused new car warranty. Drive a Volkswagen and save $ $ $, in every way every day. For instance no antifreeze, it's air cooled at 30° below zero. After your Volkswagen has been standing out all night it starts immediately. Can't boil (no water) air cooled. Gas station attendants would be lonely people if every one owned a Volkswagen for they will run up to 400 miles on a tank full of gas or up to 42 miles per gallon on regular and use no oil between changes. Holds only 5 3/10 pints of the best oil, no throw away filter at $3.25 just thoroughly cleaned and replaced. Up to 100,000 miles on tires if properly inflated and rotated. Low, low upkeep, no water pump, no universal joints, drive shaft, etc. or ½ the parts of the V-8 such as 4 cylinder 4 stroke rear engine, only 4 spark plugs, oilless generator, oil bath air cleaner, no throw away, only clean and replace. Why don't you take advantage of a car with little or no obsolescence, just constant improvements, 1965 Volkswagen has a heater, radio, turn signals, dual padded sun visors, hand grip windshield washer, increased vision all around by 15%, new wiper system, bigger brake cylinder means less pressure on pedal, steering system is sealed. Requires no lubrication, new heater controls and bigger heater, warms up quicker when engine is cold. Sun visor can be pivoted from side to side, back seat passenger has more leg room, also back seat folds down to give you 17.7 cubic foot luggage compartment big enough for a couple of trunks. The New York World's Fair continues a tradition that began with the Great Exhibition in Hyde Park, London, in 1851. The first huge international exposition attracted 14,000 exhibitors and six million visitors. The event was staged in an architectural wonder — the Crystal Palace — a gigantic glass, iron and wood building that sheltered 20 acres.

One of the favorite tourist attractions in 19th Century Washington was the display of inventors' models in the old Patent Office. Models had to be submitted with patent applications until 1880. Many interesting old specimens are still exhibited in the Smithsonian Institution.

After using a wooden salad bowl, wipe the inside with paper toweling and — unless manufacturers' directions warn against this—rinse the inside with cold water and dry. After this treatment, allow the salad bowl to stand in an open place for an hour or so before putting away in a cupboard.

Cold-soup time is around the corner. If you use the canned variety of jellied madrilene, give it an interesting garnish. Add finely chopped cucumber folded into salted whipped cream, paprika - sprinkled sour cream.

Until barbed wire was introduced — about 1880 — the great plains were an open area dominated by cattlemen who could control the natural waterholes with hired gunmen.

Junior Editors Quiz on ANIMALS

QUESTION: Why do some animals have cold blood and others, as well as people, have warm?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: In cold-blooded creatures, like the fishes and lizard above, the temperature of their bodies is about that of their surroundings. The sea is cool. So are the fish. The hot sun heats the lizard's body. Soon he will dart into the shade to cool off. Coldblooded animals can survive when the temperature is down almost to freezing, and up to about 98.6 degrees of heat. But they have no built-in mechanisms to adjust their bodies to extremes beyond this range. In contrast, warm-blooded Jerry has to keep the temperature of his body between about 92 degrees and 107 in order to live. But Jerry has wonderful equipment to keep his body temperature steady no matter how hot or cold it is around him. If he's too cold, he shivers; this helps to warm him up. If too hot, his skin sweats, taking away some of his body heat. Above all, he has his wonderful brain which tells him to put on plenty of warm clothes in cold weather and take them off when it's hot. Scientists say that the very complicated nervous system which helps so much in the operation of our brains and bodies needs a constant temperature in order to function, which is why the warm-blooded system developed in the higher animals and man.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: Jerry's dog Twist is warm-blooded too; try to figure out how he keeps his body temperature steady. (Answer: In cold weather, his thick coat and love of exercise; in hot weather, he pants, releasing heat from his tongue. He also moves as little as possible.)

County Hikes Mileage Pay

LISBON — Columbiana County Commissioners Thursday approved milage increases for county employes from 8 cents a mile to 10 cents a mile up to a monthly maximum of $110.

The maximum had been $82.50 a month. The increase will go into effect June 1.

In other business, commissioners approved a painting contract with Hollis Logue Painting and Decorating of East Liverpool to paint the home at the County Youth Honor Farm just north of Rogers at a cost of $895.

The Dayton Blank Book Co. was awarded contracts for two inventory record books and estate bond and letter record books for Probate Court on low bids of $262.50 for two inventory and $50 for the estate book. The only other bidder was Johnson - Watson Co. of Dayton, which bid only two inventory records at $315.50.

Prosecutor J. Warren Bettis, former member of the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio, will be asked to represent the county at a hearing of the Commission for a petition of the Erie - Lackawanna Railroad to close its Lisbon station. The hearing will be held May 18 at 10 a.m. at the Village Hall.

The Commissioners approved withholding $2 a month from assistance money received by residents at the County Home. This money will be used by the residents in any manner they wish to use it and will be provided only to those receiving some kind of assistance.

Robert Bycroft, county welfare director, and four of his employes were granted $100 to attend a workshop in Columbus Tuesday and Wednesday and $15 was allowed for county treasurer Vincent C. Judge to attend a Northeast Ohio County Treasurers Association meeting Tuesday at Medina.

The Commissioners will meet Monday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Firemen Quell Blaze Despite Blocked Road

The new Center - Elkrun Township truck, the Civil Defense pumper and the old township truck were dispatched to the blaze about three miles south of here at 12:15.

But only the first truck arrived, firemen said, because cars following it blocked the roads for the other two vehicles, firemen said.

Motorist Fined $10 After Newell Wreck

Floyd Nesselroad, 78, of New Cumberland R.D. 2, was fined $10 and costs on a charge of having defective brakes following an auto accident Friday on Washington St., Newell.

The Hancock County sheriff's office said that Nesselroad's pickup truck struck a car driven by Grace Louise McCall, 47, of 902 Grant St., Newell, from behind. She was taken to City Hospital with a neck injury and released following treatment.

Reign At Wellsville Prom

More than 125 couples attended the annual Junior-Senior Prom dance of Wellsville High School Friday night at Virginia Gardens in Chester when Linda French and Steve Creaturo were crowned queen and king.

Miss French, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry French, 1717 Commerce St., is the third member of her family to be named a queen. Her sister, Delores, was Tri - State Queen in 1948 and another sister, Mary Helen, was the prom queen in 1949.

Creaturo is the son of Mrs. Richard Cable of Main St. and Paul Creaturo of the SOI Hotel.

Mansfield Fights Amendment

Johnson Seen Okaying Bill With Poll Tax Ban

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield says President Johnson will sign the Negro voting rights bill even if an amendment to ban state and local poll taxes is adopted.

But Mansfield is doing his best to defeat the amendment, agreeing with Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach that it is of doubtful constitutionality.

The drive to include a ban on poll taxes is being led by Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass. The issue is to be voted on Tuesday.

In opening debate on the amendment Friday Kennedy maintained Congress has the power to outlaw state poll taxes as a condition for voting. Congress in 1962 approved a proposed amendment to the Constitution outlawing the poll tax in federal elections. It was ratified by the states and added to the Constitution last year.

Still, later, George D. Aiken, R-Vt., suggested it would be "extremely embarrassing" to the President if he were called on to sign a bill his chief legal officer says may have an unconstitutional provision.

Johnson said recently he is opposed to the poll tax, but that there is a constitutional problem involved in trying to abolish it by federal legislation.

He didn't say what he would do if such an amendment were written into the bill he proposed after the Selma-to-Montgomery march protesting voting discrimination against Negroes.

The measure provides for suspension of literacy tests and the appointment of federal registrars in wide areas of the South.

Alabama, Mississippi, Texas and Virginia still require voters in state and local elections to pay a poll tax.

He said the poll tax ban in federal elections already is leading states to drop the levy for their own elections. "The matter is moving rapidly," he said, "but our evangelistic friends think it should move faster."

The voting rights bill included a ban on the poll tax when the Judiciary Committee sent it to the floor. But Mansfield and Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen introduced a substitute bill that included instead a provision declaring Congress has received evidence Negro voting rights have been abridged by state poll taxes and directing the attorney general to test their constitutionality in court.

Katzenbach said in a letter to Mansfield Friday the Mansfield-Dirksen provision is a surer and swifter path to the eradication of the poll tax than the Kennedy proposal.

The anteater has the longest tongue of any animal in proportion to its size.

Driver Cited By Resident At Salineville

SALINEVILLE — A Pennsylvania motorist, cited in a citizen's complaint on two traffic charges Friday, forfeited $45 in appearance bond's last night in Mayor Stanley Fitch's court.

Five other motorists were fined and nine forfeited bonds.

Larry Vacherl of Shippensville, Pa., was charged with reckless operation and a stop sign violation in complaints filed by Michael Maher of W. Main St.

Maher said Vacherel's auto almost struck his on W. Main St. about 5:30 p. m. and he obtained the license number, reporting the incident to Police Chief Ray Keister. Keister alerted area police and Vacherl was later apprehended in Wellsville.

Fined last night were William Smith Jr. of High St., Salineville, Sam John Amato Jr. of 1200 Commerce St., Wellsville, and Lawrence Dale Beagle of Shadyside, East Liverpool, $10 and costs each for reckless operation. They were cited May 1.

Elmer D. Meyer of Salineville and Robert L. Burchfield of Bergholz, cited April 30 for stop sign violations, were fined $3 and costs each.

Forfeiting bonds were Delmar Espenshied of Dover R.D. 1, Carlton Wayne Gee of New Cumberland, Elmer Hardy of Homeworth R. D. 1, Manuel Boneta of Youngstown and Walter Henry of Butler, Pa., all $10 for stop sign violations, and Michael Partridge of New Philadelphia, $25; Charles Guthric of Hanoverton R. D. and Harry Harker of Salem, $20 and Ralph Beiner of Massillon, $15, all for reckless operation.

Man Killed By Car

CINCINNATI (AP) — Troy Baker of Cincinnati was killed Friday night when he walked into the path of a car, the Highway Patrol said. Baker, about 38, was struck on U. S. 52 about two miles east of Cincinnati.

A dicussion program concerning the County Home has been planned. All interested Republicans are welcome to attend, Sanor said.

W. Va. State Official Suffers Partial Stroke

He was described as making a satisfactory recovery.

3 Perish, 7 Missing As Ships Collide

MACKINAW CITY, Mich. (AP) — Boats and planes searched today for more survivors of Friday's freighter collision, but rescue workers believed that the seven seamen still missing had perished in the frigid waters of the Straits of Mackinac.

Three men were known dead as a result of the mishap in the fog-shrouded straits, the narrow stretch of water which separates Michigan's two peninsulas.

"No one could survive the cold water this long," said Dr. Nicholas Lentini, chief of surgery at Cheboygan Community Hospital where five injured men were treated.

Fog was so thick that visibility was reported at barely 50 feet.

Flames Damage Roof Of Foundry

A section of the roof and some beams at the Lane Foundry on State St. were damaged in an early-morning fire blamed on a spark from hot slag, firemen reported.

Theee booster lines were used to confine the fire to the roof, Fireman Del Manning, acting assistant chief, said.

Firemen were called to W. 6th and Jefferson Sts. at 9:06 a.m. yesterday by a fire in a car driven by Joseph I. Hutchinson. However, the blaze was extinguished before they arrived by Ed Watson.

Three Cases Heard In MacDonald Court

LISBON — Forrest Edmond, 18, Kensington R.D., was given a $10 suspended fine Friday by County Judge J. L. MacDonald for permitting trash to fall on the highway. He was cited by Forest Young, Franklin Township constable.

Alden N. Howard, 48, of Cleveland and Lindsey H. Frederick, 65, of Carmichaels, Pa., each forfeited $15 bonds for speeding when they failed to appear for scheduled hearings after being cited by the State Highway Patrol.

English Lord Dies

HARROGATE, England (AP) —Lord Mowbray and Stourton, 70, premier baron of England, died Friday. A distant relative of the Duke of Norfolk, Lord Mowbray was a Conservative and a prominent Catholic.

'Police Week' Program Set

Final details were listed today in the program for the local observance of National Police Week, which will open Sunday and continue through May 15.

Officers have been requested to attend services in the church of their choice Sunday in observance of Mother's Day.

Sunday also will mark the start of "open house" at headquarters, which will continue throughout the observance. Police said visitors are welcome at the station between 1 and 6 p.m. each day.

Displays in connection with the observance will be placed Monday in the windows at Robins & Sant Clothiers at W. 5th and Market Sts. The displays will remain in place through Saturday.

A smorgasbord dinner is scheduled Monday at 6:30 p.m. at the Elks Lodge. Officers will be guests at the dinner, sponsored by the Fraternal Order of Police Associates Lodge.

Members of the police department will be interviewed on a program on WOHI Wednesday at 11 a.m.

The regular monthly joint meeting of Fraternal Order of Police Lodge 29 and FOPA Lodge 26 is set Friday at 8 p.m. at City Hall.

The observance will close with a Peace Officers Memorial Day program May 15 at 10 a.m. in front of City Hall. It will be a tribute to all deceased law enforcement officers, particularly those who lost their lives in line of duty.

Former Fighter Pilot Cited For Plane Theft

HONOLULU AP) — Former fighter pilot James A. Ashdown, 34, now an advertising salesman, had an urge to fly again.

Police said he satisfied that urge Friday morning by stealing a World War II B25 bomber and making a tree-top flight along Waikiki Beach that had hotel residents quivering in their pajamas.

Ashdown was charged with plane theft when he landed the craft at Honolulu's airport. Police said the bomber, which had been used for a Hollywood film, belonged to Ashdown's former employer.

Rogers Waits Launching Of Its Festival

ROGERS — The volunteer firemen and Fire Belles Auxiliary completed plans Friday night for the first annual festival next week. It will be Wednesday through Saturday.

A parade will be held Wednesday night at 8 to mark the opening of the event. Robert Clark, president of the firemen, and Mrs. Dorothy Hill, Auxiliary president, conducted business.

Eight women and 15 firemen attended. Clark said 90 area departments have been invited to participate. Lisbon, East Palestine, Negley and New Waterford have confirmed their reservations. Five schools and five drill teams have been invited.

A children's matinee will be held Saturday afternoon from 1 to 5. The firemen are working today and Sunday to prepare the lot. Firemen will meet Monday night at 8 at the station.

Mrs. Hill said two women will be named in charge of the refreshment stand each day. They will select their own committees.

Firemen Quell Blaze Despite Blocked Road

The new Center - Elkrun Township truck, the Civil Defense pumper and the old township truck were dispatched to the blaze about three miles south of here at 12:15.

But only the first truck arrived, firemen said, because cars following it blocked the roads for the other two vehicles, firemen said.

Motorist Fined $10 After Newell Wreck

Floyd Nesselroad, 78, of New Cumberland R.D. 2, was fined $10 and costs on a charge of having defective brakes following an auto accident Friday on Washington St., Newell.

The Hancock County sheriff's office said that Nesselroad's pickup truck struck a car driven by Grace Louise McCall, 47, of 902 Grant St., Newell, from behind. She was taken to City Hospital with a neck injury and released following treatment.

Reign At Wellsville Prom

More than 125 couples attended the annual Junior-Senior Prom dance of Wellsville High School Friday night at Virginia Gardens in Chester when Linda French and Steve Creaturo were crowned queen and king.

Miss French, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry French, 1717 Commerce St., is the third member of her family to be named a queen. Her sister, Delores, was Tri - State Queen in 1948 and another sister, Mary Helen, was the prom queen in 1949.

Creaturo is the son of Mrs. Richard Cable of Main St. and Paul Creaturo of the SOI Hotel.

Miss French was presented a bouquet of white roses. Members of her court were given red roses and each of the boys was presented a tie clasp.

Mansfield Fights Amendment

Johnson Seen Okaying Bill With Poll Tax Ban

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield says President Johnson will sign the Negro voting rights bill even if an amendment to ban state and local poll taxes is adopted.

But Mansfield is doing his best to defeat the amendment, agreeing with Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach that it is of doubtful constitutionality.

The drive to include a ban on poll taxes is being led by Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass. The issue is to be voted on Tuesday.

In opening debate on the amendment Friday Kennedy maintained Congress has the power to outlaw state poll taxes as a condition for voting. Congress in 1962 approved a proposed amendment to the Constitution outlawing the poll tax in federal elections. It was ratified by the states and added to the Constitution last year.

Still, later, George D. Aiken, R-Vt., suggested it would be "extremely embarrassing" to the President if he were called on to sign a bill his chief legal officer says may have an unconstitutional provision.

Johnson said recently he is opposed to the poll tax, but that there is a constitutional problem involved in trying to abolish it by federal legislation.

He didn't say what he would do if such an amendment were written into the bill he proposed after the Selma-to-Montgomery march protesting voting discrimination against Negroes.

The measure provides for suspension of literacy tests and the appointment of federal registrars in wide areas of the South.

Alabama, Mississippi, Texas and Virginia still require voters in state and local elections to pay a poll tax.

"The trouble with the ultra-liberals is that they expect too much, too quick," Holland said.

He said the poll tax ban in federal elections already is leading states to drop the levy for their own elections. "The matter is moving rapidly," he said, "but our evangelistic friends think it should move faster."

The voting rights bill included a ban on the poll tax when the Judiciary Committee sent it to the floor. But Mansfield and Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen introduced a substitute bill that included instead a provision declaring Congress has received evidence Negro voting rights have been abridged by state poll taxes and directing the attorney general to test their constitutionality in court.

Katzenbach said in a letter to Mansfield Friday the Mansfield-Dirksen provision is a surer and swifter path to the eradication of the poll tax than the Kennedy proposal.

W. Va. State Official Suffers Partial Stroke

Burdett was hospitalized here after being stricken while en route to Kanawha County Airport Thursday night.

He was described as making a satisfactory recovery.

3 Perish, 7 Missing As Ships Collide

MACKINAW CITY, Mich. (AP) — Boats and planes searched today for more survivors of Friday's freighter collision, but rescue workers believed that the seven seamen still missing had perished in the frigid waters of the Straits of Mackinac.

Three men were known dead as a result of the mishap in the fog-shrouded straits, the narrow stretch of water which separates Michigan's two peninsulas.

"No one could survive the cold water this long," said Dr. Nicholas Lentini, chief of surgery at Cheboygan Community Hospital where five injured men were treated.

The Cedarville and the 424-foot Norwegian freighter Topdalsfjod collided in thick fog four miles east of here.

Ripped in her port side, the Cedarville tried to make a dash for shallow water but sank within 24 minutes.

Fog was so thick that visibility was reported at barely 50 feet.

A foghorn signal by the Cedarville was not answered by the Topdalsfjord before the vessels collided, a survivor said Friday.

Flames Damage Roof Of Foundry

A section of the roof and some beams at the Lane Foundry on State St. were damaged in an early-morning fire blamed on a spark from hot slag, firemen reported.

Theee booster lines were used to confine the fire to the roof, Fireman Del Manning, acting assistant chief, said.

The spark from the slag set fire to the beams and roof above an iron furnace, he said.

Firemen received the alarm at 3:15 a.m., with trucks from East End and Central responding.

Firemen were called to W. 6th and Jefferson Sts. at 9:06 a.m. yesterday by a fire in a car driven by Joseph I. Hutchinson. However, the blaze was extinguished before they arrived by Ed Watson.

Three Cases Heard In MacDonald Court

LISBON — Forrest Edmond, 18, Kensington R.D., was given a $10 suspended fine Friday by County Judge J. L. MacDonald for permitting trash to fall on the highway. He was cited by Forest Young, Franklin Township constable.

Alden N. Howard, 48, of Cleveland and Lindsey H. Frederick, 65, of Carmichaels, Pa., each forfeited $15 bonds for speeding when they failed to appear for scheduled hearings after being cited by the State Highway Patrol.

English Lord Dies

HARROGATE, England (AP) —Lord Mowbray and Stourton, 70, premier baron of England, died Friday. A distant relative of the Duke of Norfolk, Lord Mowbray was a Conservative and a prominent Catholic.

'Police Week' Program Set

Final details were listed today in the program for the local observance of National Police Week, which will open Sunday and continue through May 15.

Officers have been requested to attend services in the church of their choice Sunday in observance of Mother's Day.

Sunday also will mark the start of "open house" at headquarters, which will continue throughout the observance. Police said visitors are welcome at the station between 1 and 6 p.m. each day.

Displays in connection with the observance will be placed Monday in the windows at Robins & Sant Clothiers at W. 5th and Market Sts. The displays will remain in place through Saturday.

A smorgasbord dinner is scheduled Monday at 6:30 p.m. at the Elks Lodge. Officers will be guests at the dinner, sponsored by the Fraternal Order of Police Associates Lodge.

Members of the police department will be interviewed on a program on WOHI Wednesday at 11 a.m.

The regular monthly joint meeting of Fraternal Order of Police Lodge 29 and FOPA Lodge 26 is set Friday at 8 p.m. at City Hall.

The observance will close with a Peace Officers Memorial Day program May 15 at 10 a.m. in front of City Hall. It will be a tribute to all deceased law enforcement officers, particularly those who lost their lives in line of duty.

Former Fighter Pilot Cited For Plane Theft

HONOLULU (AP) — Former fighter pilot James A. Ashdown, 34, now an advertising salesman, had an urge to fly again.

Police said he satisfied that urge Friday morning by stealing a World War II B25 bomber and making a tree-top flight along Waikiki Beach that had hotel residents quivering in their pajamas.

Ashdown was charged with plane theft when he landed the craft at Honolulu's airport. Police said the bomber, which had been used for a Hollywood film, belonged to Ashdown's former employer.

Rogers Waits Launching Of Its Festival

ROGERS — The volunteer firemen and Fire Belles Auxiliary completed plans Friday night for the first annual festival next week. It will be Wednesday through Saturday.

A parade will be held Wednesday night at 8 to mark the opening of the event. Robert Clark, president of the firemen, and Mrs. Dorothy Hill, Auxiliary president, conducted business.

Eight women and 15 firemen attended. Clark said 90 area departments have been invited to participate. Lisbon, East Palestine, Negley and New Waterford have confirmed their reservations. Five schools and five drill teams have been invited.

The Rogers Little League baseball team will operate a cookie and candy stand on the grounds.

A children's matinee will be held Saturday afternoon from 1 to 5. The firemen are working today and Sunday to prepare the lot. Firemen will meet Monday night at 8 at the station.

Mrs. Hill said two women will be named in charge of the refreshment stand each day. They will select their own committees.
